Candidate Spotlight

Anyone seeking political office is invited and encouraged to announce their candidacy in the Candidate Spotlight. It is an opportunity to tell the voters why you are running, goals if elected, etc. It is not a forum for bashing an opponent, and there is no charge.

Mary Hoeft Candidate for Congress 7th District

My name is Mary Hoeft and I am running for Congress for the honor of representing the people of the 7th Congressional District in Northern Wisconsin.

I am a professor of Communication Arts and French at the University of Wisconsin-Barron County in Rice Lake, a Fulbright-Hays Scholar and a Wisconsin Idea Fellow. I served two terms on the Rice Lake School Board and am past president of the Board of Directors of Barron County Restorative Justice Programs, our state's most cost effective alternative to the incarceration of first-time juvenile offenders.

I have two children—Kelly, a police officer in Madison, Wisconsin and Ryan, also an officer, who died in service to the people of St. Louis Park, Minnesota.

Former Congressman Dave Obey has endorsed my candidacy, certain that I will fight hard on behalf of families devastated by Wisconsin's economy where poverty is at a 30-year high. Wisconsin now ranks #1 among states with the most rapidly disappearing middle class.

As your representative in Congress, I will advocate on behalf of a living wage and the elimination of tax incentives that have sent U.S. manufacturing jobs overseas. I will vote against privatization of social security. Wall Street investors cannot be allowed to gamble with money we depend upon for retirement.

I will fight for clean air and clean water, federally funded preschool, affordable higher education, a single payer healthcare plan, negotiated prices on prescription drugs, and the best possible healthcare for veterans.

A vote for Mary Hoeft on August 9 is a vote for the restoration and rebuilding of America's middle class.

Lawrence Dale Candidate for 34th Assembly District

Lawrence Dale, 67, of Eagle River will be on the ballot in the Democratic Party primary runoff to be held on Tuesday, August 9th. Mr. Dale is a long time Northwoods merchant and a Vietnam veteran with an M.S. in Industrial and Labor Relations from the University of Oregon. He worked as a volunteer for the Bernie Sanders campaign during the presidential primaries. You can see his biography and campaign platform at his website: www.DaletheBerniecrat.org.

Informed voters may also want to access his recent, July 27th news/ issues interview now available on line at: www.WisEye.org.

Matthew N. Michalsen Candidate the 34th Assembly District

I, Matthew N. Michalsen, am running for the 34th District State Assembly seat, because our community and constituents have not been represented to the fullest over the past few years. I am also running because I believe there is a great divide in our area, our state, and our country on how we categorize ourselves as Republicans or Democrats. I am running to represent you, the great people of the Northwoods. I want to make the Northwoods a place for all to come and all to live. I will do my best to revitalize the Northwoods. Together we will do our best to revitalize the entire district. We will once again have a prosperous economy where businesses can thrive all year round, we will encourage more opportunity for the youth, we will build strong infrastructure, we will champion education and give

Drivers License online No standing in line

"It's no secret; everyone wants to make their visit to a Wisconsin DMV shorter. The new Driver License Guide retrieves the form(s) you need, walks you through the process to fill in the form(s), and can even submit the paperwork electronically for you," explains Ann Perry, Bureau of Driver Services director. "Depending on your eligibility, the new enhanced features may even help you schedule an appointment with the DMV."

The Driver License Guide, available at www.wisconsin.gov or linked through <https://app.wi.gov/DLGuides/>, takes out the guesswork and walks customers through a multi-step process. First, it accesses the needed forms. Although the Guide can provide general information through an anonymous search, customers may also allow the Guide to determine eligibility, customize information, and pre-fill forms specific to the customer's current driving record. From there, the customer can print/download the information found and the tailored checklist.

Next, customers can begin the online application process. At the end of the application process, the customer will have the opportunity to electronically submit the application(s) to the DMV and, depending on eligibility, schedule an appointment.

"The DMV will already have the forms, and the checklist provided in the Guide will help the customer remember to bring any needed documents with them to the DMV," Perry said. "This will help ensure that customers are able to complete their transaction with one visit to DMV, and will reduce the amount of time spent at the DMV service center."

Wisconsin already has some of the shortest wait times for DMVs in the country. In fact, the wait time for nearly 90 percent of DMV customers is less than 20 minutes. With this new process, DMV customers using the Driver License Guide and appointment scheduler will be served within 10 minutes of checking-in when they arrive for their appointment. Wisconsin DMV service centers conduct more than 2 million in-person transactions each year.

When accessing transportation-related forms, please note that www.wisconsin.gov (with the extension .gov) is the official state website. Others with .org and .com are not official and may have extra charges for forms or list information that is dated or incorrect.

Nicolet to survey residents 50-plus about college offerings

With the 50-plus population continuing to grow in the Northwoods, Nicolet College has launched a survey to determine how the college can continue to meet the changing and emerging needs of these individuals.

"Nicolet is committed to serving all residents in the district. Not only are the demographics of the area changing, but the lifestyles and interests of the 50-plus age group are evolving as Baby Boomers retire and individual's lifestyles and plans are impacted by economic changes, and health developments that lead to longer and healthier lives," said Nicolet Executive Director Sandy Kinney. "The results of the survey will help the college identify ways it can best serve individuals age 50 and older."

The survey includes questions about job skills training and career advancement for individuals who wish to continue or pursue new opportunities in the workforce as well as questions about how Nicolet can further enrich the lives of area retirees. The college currently offers career training in 68 areas, a Learning in Retirement group, Continuing Education courses, Outdoor Adventure classes, and a variety of arts and outreach activities.

The survey, which takes only a few minutes to complete, is available online through the month of August at nicoletcollege.edu/plus50. Paper surveys are available by contacting the Nicolet Learning in Retirement office at (715) 365-4491, 1-800-544-3039, ext. 4491; TTY 1-800-947-3529 or 711 relay.

New Learning in Retirement classes at Nicolet College

While leaving the world of work in the rear view mirror can be a freeing experience, its important for many retirees to stay active and engaged in order to fully enjoy the retirement years.

"There's no question having extra leisure time to do what you want is one of the highlights of retirement," said Brenda Peltier, the Plus50 community sector liaison at Nicolet College.

"But how you spend that leisure time can make all the difference. That's where Nicolet College's Learning in Retirement comes in, offering retirees many opportunities to learn new things, meet new people, and add an extra level of enjoyment to their retirement years."

This coming Fall Session the LIR will offer a record 50 different presentations and activities from early September through the middle of December.

The natural world and local history will come into sharper focus with presentations on the advance and retreat of glaciers in the region, archeology and Native American burial grounds, soils, fungus, and the popular Ced's Nature Series.

Senior wealth, health, and fitness will be covered in a series of offerings that include financial investments, a look at dementia and another on eyes as they age, and recreational activities that include pickleball and a bike ride on the Bearskin Trail.

For those who enjoy the arts, presentations and activities will include visits to ArtStart events in downtown Rhinelander, the opportunity to join the LIR Chorus, film showings, and a presentation on the Northern National Art Competition at the college.

Numerous other activities will also be available including personalized tours of highlights of local communities and several visits to area supper clubs.

To join and for a complete listing of events, visit nicoletcollege.edu/lir.

Membership is $40 and open to anyone who is retired or semi-retired.

Classes will be held throughout the Northwoods in Rhinelander, Eagle River, Minocqua, Lac du Flambeau, Manitowish Waters, Three Lakes, Tomahawk, and Merrill.

For more information about the LIR or to receive a printed schedule, contact the Nicolet College Learning in Retirement Office at (715) 365-4491 or 1-800-544-3039, ext. 4491: TTY 711 or 1-800-947-3529.

Community Strength Training Program!

The Forest County Commission on Aging and Health Department will be offering the Strong Bones Program, a 12-week exercise program for middle-aged and older people starting September 12. This will be held each Monday and Wednesday from 9 am to 10 am at the Crandon Public Library. An informational session and pre-registration will be held on August 31, 2016 at 9 am at the Crandon Public Library. The series will be led by Laurie Van Grinsven, Health and Wellness Coach at Being Well, LLC.

The StrongBones Program was developed by Miriam Nelson, PhD, an associate professor at the Gerald J. and Dorothy R. Friedman School of Nutrition Science and Policy at Tufts University. The StrongBones Program is based upon years of research on how strength training and proper nutrition improve the health of women of all ages. "Strength is a critical factor in living healthier, more active lives. Our research shows that a program of strength training not only improves bone density but reduces falls, improves arthritis symptoms, and increases flexibility and strength," states Dr. Nelson. The program is appropriate for sedentary and very active women.

For more information on the StrongBones Program beginning in Crandon, please contact: Jill Krueger, Forest County Health Department, 200 E. Madison St., Crandon, WI 54520.

Wisconsin State Broadband office launches High Speed Internet Access Demand Survey
 MADISON- The State Broadband Office at the Wisconsin Public Service Commission has announced the release of its High Speed Internet Access Demand Survey. Used as a tool to allow residents and businesses the opportunity to voice their need for improved internet access or service, the goal of the survey is to help state planners and policy makers better understand consumer demand for internet access in Wisconsin.

To complete the survey, please visit: www.psc.wi.gov/BroadbandSurvey.htm
 Those unable to access the website may take the survey by calling, toll-free, (877)360-2973. Governor Walker created the Broadband Expansion Grant program in 2013 and last year, he and the legislature tripled the amount of annual funding available through the program. To date, the program has awarded $2.4 million and leveraged $3.9 million in additional, private investment. The Public Service Commission will consider FY 2017 grant applications in August.

Earlier this summer, Governor Walker launched the Broadband Forward! Community Certification program to jump-start broadband expansion by eliminating obstacles to infrastructure improvements and streamlining the process for approving local broadband investment.

For more information about the survey, visit www.psc.wi.gov/BroadbandSurvey.htm

New toll-free number provides quick and easy access to the entire Wisconsin State Patrol

If you wish to contact the Wisconsin State Patrol with questions or requests for services, you can call the new toll-free number of 1-844-847-1234 that operates 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

In case of an emergency, you should still call 911 immediately.

Information available through the 1-844-847-1234 toll-free number includes:

- Road conditions and travel information from 511 Wisconsin
- Driver's license and registration information
- Commercial motor vehicle information

The number can also connect you with a specific Division of State Patrol Region Headquarters, the State Patrol Academy, the Division Headquarters in Madison or with individual members of the State Patrol if you know their extension.

"The new toll-free number provides the public with more convenient access to the entire Wisconsin State Patrol," says Colonel Brian Rahn, deputy superintendent. "In addition, the new toll-free number is part of the State Patrol's conversion to an internet-based phone system that will produce substantial cost savings over a conventional digital system."

August is National Immunization Awareness Month!

Six Things You Need to Know About Vaccines

1. We all need vaccines throughout our lives to help protect against serious diseases. Every year, tens of thousands of Americans get sick from diseases that could be prevented by vaccines - some people are hospitalized, some even die. Immunization is our best protection against these diseases
2. Outbreaks of vaccine-preventable diseases can and do still happen in communities across the U.S. Vaccines have greatly reduced infectious diseases that once regularly harmed or killed many infants, children, and adults. However, the germs that cause vaccine-preventable disease still exist and can be spread to people who are not protected. Vaccination not only protects the person who gets the vaccine, but also prevents diseases from spreading to others, like family members, neighbors, classmates, and other members of your communities.
3. CDC and FDA take many steps to make sure vaccines are very safe. Before a vaccine is approved for use in the U.S., it goes through years of careful testing to make sure it is safe and effective. Highly trained scientists and doctors at the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) evaluate the results of these clinical studies
4. Vaccines give you the power to protect your children from getting sick. Vaccination is one of the best ways parents can protect infants, children, and teens from 16 potentially harmful diseases. Vaccine-preventable diseases can be very serious, may require hospitalization, or even be deadly — especially in infants and young children.
5. You can even make sure your baby is born with protection by getting vaccinated when you are pregnant. You probably know that when you are pregnant, you share everything with your baby. That means when you get vaccinated, you aren't just protecting yourself—you are passing some protection on to your baby in the first few months of life when they are too young to build immunity on their own.
6. Vaccines aren't just for kids. They can help adults stay healthy too - especially if they have any health conditions.

Even if you got all your vaccines as a child, the protection from some vaccines can wear off over time. You may also be at risk for other diseases due to your age, job, lifestyle, travel, or health conditions.

For more information visit <http://www.cdc.gov/vaccines/index.html> or call the Forest County Health Department at 715-478-3371.

Breastfeeding: a key to sustainable development

August is National Breastfeeding Month. Between August 1-7, the World Alliance for Breastfeeding Action and the National WIC Association will be celebrating the WBW theme "Breastfeeding: A Key to Sustainable Development". The theme of World Breastfeeding Week will be breastfeeding in relation to sustainability or doing things in a way that do not use up or destroy natural resources.

In 2015, world leaders committed to 17 Sustainable Development Goals aimed at ending poverty and protecting the planet by the year 2030. This year's World Breastfeeding Week theme is about how breastfeeding can contribute to those goals through better nutrition and food security; improved health and infant survival; environmental impact; and work productivity & empowerment.

Breastfeeding is a low-cost way to feed babies, no waste means a cleaner environment. Breastfeeding contributes to the health of both babies and their moms.

WIC supports breastfeeding mothers and their families by answering breastfeeding questions and giving encouragement through the Peer Counselor program. Breastfeeding is discussed with all pregnant WIC participants. The peer counselor gives tips on how to talk with your family, doctor, supervisor, co-workers, and child care providers about feeding goals. Assistance is given with getting a breast pump and information on proper use is provided, including education on breastmilk storage and handling and information for employers in complying with state and federal laws such as the break time requirement for nursing mothers.

The Forest County Health Department also offers breast pumps at a reduced cost for the general public. Please contact the Health Department for more information 715-478-3371.

WABA has also created a special Website to coordinate and link people on the theme: <http://worldbreastfeedingweek.org>.

Vicki R. Drewek passed away Sunday, July 31, 2016 after battling several illnesses. She was 64. Vicki was born Waukegan, Illinois on June 2, 1952 to Clayton and Sylvia (Skidmore) Nickell. She grew up in Cudahy, WI graduating from Cudahy High School in 1970. Upon graduating, she became a beautician, a job she held for nearly 30 years.

In 1977, she married her husband William. The two renewed their vows 20 years later, and on May 7th of this year, they celebrated their 39th wedding anniversary. Both were looking forward to their 40th. The couple had four children.

In 1993 she and the family moved from Milwaukee to Pearson, Wisconsin, where she became a bus driver. She continued driving school bus until 2012 after her health began to fail. She also worked for Elcho School District. In her capacity as a bus driver and student supervisor, she was beloved by many and was affectionately known as "Vixen." Though she supported all of the groups at Elcho she had a special connection with the Elcho wrestling team and the Elcho/White Lake football team.

It was hard for so many not to fall in love with her. She always had a smile on her face and a light-hearted quip at the ready. Anyone who knew her knew the quickest way to her heart or to get out of her dog house was with Coca Cola. She was rarely seen without one.

Vicki was preceded in death by her parents; her sister-in-law, Judy Nickell; several aunts and uncles, including her beloved Aunt Norma; and her newborn daughter, Stephanie, whose ashes will be buried with her.

Vicki is survived by her husband, William; sons, William (Sam); her grandchildren, Chevi, Clayton and Bella of Bryant WI; Steven (Shiyanke) of Green Bay/Colombo Sri Lanka; and Kyle (Tammy) of Pulaski, WI. She is further survived by her brother, Dennie Nickell; aunt, Karen Cromwell; and best friend of 54 years, Pauline (Kelly) McFall of St. Louis. She is further survived by many nieces, nephews and cousins.

Visitation will be held on Friday, August 5, 2016 from 9:30-11 a.m. at St. Mary Catholic Church, Pickerel. Funeral mass will follow at 11 a.m. with Father Dave Zimmerman officiating. Interment will be at the Pearson Cemetery. Online condolences may be directed to the family at www.weberhillfuneralhome.com. Weber-Hill Funeral Home of Crandon is assisting the family.

President Obama signs Sen. Baldwin's bipartisan VA reforms into law

WASHINGTON, D.C. – U.S. Senator Tammy Baldwin released the following statement today after President Obama signed into law bipartisan VA reforms that Senator Baldwin authored in the Jason Simcakoski Memorial Opioid Safety Act (S.1641). Baldwin's VA reforms were included in the Comprehensive Addiction and Recovery Act, which passed the Senate last week.

"I'm proud to have worked with the Simcakoski family to introduce these VA reforms. We earned bipartisan support in Congress and I'm very pleased President Obama has signed them into law," said Senator Baldwin. "Our VA reforms will strengthen the Department of Veterans Affairs' opioid prescribing guidelines and put in place stronger oversight and accountability for the quality of care that we are providing our veterans. My goal is to prevent Jason's tragedy from happening to other veterans and their families. We have made these reforms a reality and moved closer to achieving our goal of safer and more effective pain management services for our nation's veterans."

Senator Baldwin's Jason Simcakoski Memorial Opioid Safety Act, authored in close consultation with medical professionals, veterans service organizations, and the Simcakoski family, focuses on strengthening the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) opioid prescribing guidelines and improving pain management services by putting the following reforms in place:

- Requiring stronger opioid prescribing guidelines and education for VA providers, including stricter standards against prescribing dangerous combinations of opioids with other drugs and for prescribing opioids to patients struggling with mental health issues;
- Increasing coordination and communication throughout the VA with medical facilities, providers, patients and their families surrounding pain management, alternative treatments for chronic pain, and appropriate opioid therapy; and
- Holding the VA system accountable for appropriate care and quality standards through GAO reviews and VA reports to Congress.

In addition to improving opioid therapy and pain management, the Jason Simcakoski Memorial Opioid Safety Act strengthens the VA's patient advocacy program by ensuring advocates are independent and truly work for veterans, expands access to complementary and integrative health and wellness, and enhances VA hiring practices to help prevent bad doctors from treating veterans.

The legislation signed by President Obama also includes Senator Baldwin's bipartisan bill with Senator Jerry Moran (R-KS) to make naloxone rescue kits more affordable and accessible to our nation's veterans by eliminating veteran copayments for naloxone.

(Do Not) Call Me Tomorrow

By the GWAAR Legal Services Team (for reprint)

If you are receiving unwanted calls or texts, you can sign up on the National Do Not Call Registry to reduce the frequency of unwanted calls. According to the Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection, once you sign up on the Do Not Call Registry, your registration is permanent as long as you keep the same number. If you change your number, just sign up again.

Wisconsin residents who sign up on the Do Not Call Registry receive federal protection and protection under Wisconsin's telemarketing laws. Keep in mind that certain organizations and businesses are still permitted by law to call numbers that are on the registry. Examples include tax-exempt non-profit organizations, organizations you have given prior consent to contact you, or political organizations. The same rules apply to texts.

Signing up on the Do Not Call Registry helps reduce the number of sales calls you receive and helps deter fraud. Scammers frequently use telemarketing as a way to target their victims. If your number is on the Registry, and you receive an unsolicited call, the call is probably a scam.

To register, call 1-888-382-1222 from the phone you want to register. Your number shows up on the Registry the next day, and telemarketers covered by the Do Not Call Registry have 31 days from the date you register to stop calling you. If you receive a call from a telemarketer after 31 days, you can file a consumer complaint with the Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection here: https://datcp.wi.gov/Pages/Programs_Services/FileConsumerComplaint.aspx.

Precautions You Can Take if You Think Your Identity's Been Stolen

By the GWAAR Legal Services Team (for reprint)

Many of us learn that our credit card information or Social Security number has been stolen after-the-fact when we get an alert from our credit card company about suspicious purchases or we go to apply for something and a red flag is raised. However, some people might have a hunch that their information has been compromised before actual proof of theft has occurred.

For instance, we recently learned of a woman who gave her credit card information and Social Security number to someone whom she thought was a customer service representative from a television shopping network. At the end of the call, she realized that she had never before been asked for her Social Security number when making purchases, and the whole conversation didn't sit well with her. She immediately called family members who were able to help her take precautionary steps to avoid further vulnerability to her financial accounts and personal information.

If something like this happens to you, there are steps you can take. Here are some things you can do if you suspect personal information has been stolen but do not yet have concrete proof of a theft:

Contact Your Financial Institutions. Call each credit card company and bank where you do financial business to report a suspected theft. Each company will have a different method of monitoring suspicious activity. You should also keep a record for yourself of the institutions you called, the time/date, and the name of the person with whom you spoke.

Place a Fraud Alert. The next level of protection is to call one of the three credit reporting companies (Equifax, Experian, or Trans Union) and ask for a fraud alert to be placed. Whichever company you call is required to notify the other two companies, but you should still confirm with the company you call that they will follow up with the other two companies. A "fraud alert" means that if anyone tries to open an account using your information, the business must contact you to verify your identity first. Placing a fraud alert is free and stays on your credit report for 90 days. After 90 days, you can renew the alert if you want.

Monitor Your Financial Accounts. If you weren't already in the habit of checking your financial accounts, you should be now. Whether you check online or by phone, now is the time to make sure nothing unusual appears on your accounts. This includes checking your credit report regularly. Everyone can get one free copy per year of their credit report at www.annualcreditreport.com.

Contact the IRS (Internal Revenue Service). Often times scammers use your Social Security number to file taxes for you in order to receive your tax refund, if you are owed one. Other times scammers use your Social Security number to apply for jobs, and then report their income under your name. This can cause problems when you go to file your taxes because it will appear as if you haven't reported all income.

File an Online Complaint with the Internet Crime Complaint Center (IC3). Rather than report suspected identity theft to a local law enforcement agency, the Social Security Administration (SSA) recommends that you file an online complaint with IC3 at www.ic3.gov. IC3 will review and investigate your complaint and then send it to the law enforcement or regulatory agency that has the power to follow through with your claim. You should print a copy of your complaint so that you have a record of filing such a complaint.

5 Secrets to Staying Motivated

If you lack motivation, you might feel bored, unfocused or tired. Half the day might float by before you realize you haven't accomplished much - followed by guilt or panic as you fall behind, but can't figure out how to catch up.

Break the chain by keeping motivation high. Try these five steps:

1. Break down jobs. Dividing big tasks into small chunks can boost your sense of accomplishment.
2. See the big picture. Think about how the work you are doing impacts coworkers and clients. Making a difference is a great motivator.
3. Set goals. Make them achievable and realistic.
4. Mix it up. If possible, vary your tasks, or try a new approach to work you do all the time.
5. Reward yourself. When you finish a task, treat yourself - use social media, put money in a special account or go out with friends.

Sometimes the best reward is the satisfaction you get from a job completed - what can you check off your list today?

OCEDC launches new lending program

The Oconto County Economic Development Corporation (OCEDC) is excited to announce a new loan program available to new and existing for-profit small businesses located throughout Oconto County. The OCEDC Micro Loan Program is now accepting applications. Applicants must have fewer than 25 employees and annual sales of less than 1 million dollars. The program is funded by the USDA Rural Business Development Grant Program and FirstMerit Bank

The Micro Loan Program is designed to assist businesses with smaller loans ranging from $1,000 to $5,000. This program is less complicated than conventional lending or government sponsored loans. Unlike most government loans which have job creation requirements, the Micro Loan program has none.

The program does require some level of private investment.

The funds may be used for a wide range of uses including, but not limited to, exterior façade improvements, preparation of business plans or technical studies, purchase of technology based or other equipment, and inventory.

Brochures and an application may be obtained from OCEDC either by stopping at our office, via mail, or downloading the material from our website.

SCHOOL DISTRICT OF WABENO AREA ANNUAL NOTICE OF SPECIAL EDUCATION REFERRAL AND EVALUATION PROCEDURES

ANNUAL NOTICE OF SPECIAL EDUCATION REFERRAL AND EVALUATION PROCEDURES

Upon request, the School District of Wabeno Area is required to evaluate a child for eligibility for special education services. A request for an evaluation is known as a referral. When the district receives a referral, the district will appoint an Individualized Education Program (IEP) team to determine if the child has a disability, and if the child needs special education services. The district locates, identifies, and evaluates all children with disabilities who are enrolled by their parents in private (including religious) schools, elementary schools and secondary schools located in the school district.

A physician, nurse, psychologist, social worker, or administrator of a social agency who reasonably believes a child brought to him or her for services is a child with a disability has a legal duty to refer the child, including a homeless child, to the school district in which the child resides. Before referring the child, the person making the referral must inform the child's parent that the referral will be made.

Others, including parents, who reasonably believe a child is a child with a disability may also refer the child, including a homeless child, to the school district in which the child resides.

Referrals must be in writing and include the reason why the person believes the child is a child with a disability. A referral may be made by contacting Robert Tucker, Director of Special Education, School District of Wabeno Area, at 715-473-2592, or by writing him at P.O. Box 460, Wabeno, WI 54566.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL NEEDS SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

This notice serves to inform parents and guardians of students with disabilities that the State of Wisconsin has established the Special Needs Scholarship Program. Under this scholarship program and as further specified in state law, a child with a disability who has been denied the opportunity to attend a nonresident school district under the full-time open enrollment program may be eligible to receive a scholarship from the Department of Public Instruction (DPI) that allows the child to attend an eligible private school that is participating in the Special Needs Scholarship Program.

This is a state-administered program. A parent or guardian who is interested in the Special Needs Scholarship Program should independently verify the participating private schools and the specific terms, eligibility criteria, and application procedures of the scholarship program with the DPI.

The Special Needs Scholarship Program is further defined under section 115.7915 of the state statutes. However, special eligibility requirements not found in that statute exist for program scholarships that are awarded for private school attendance that initially begins in the 2016-2017 school year. Additional information about the program should be available on the website of the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction: <http://dpi.wi.gov/>

 our youth the resources they need and deserve to obtain the highest skill level possible to compete in the world. We will not lead for personal benefit, we will lead for the betterment of rural Wisconsin. I will lead for you, no matter your party affiliation, no matter your circumstances. It is time for new blood in the political spectrum and to get more people involved in the process. Democracy can only work if we all have a voice.
 I have listened to many people over the past months and this is what they have shared: "Matt, we are excited that young people are getting involved." "Matt we are a conservative base, how will you bring the parties together?" "Matt, how will you make sure certain initiatives are within the legislature?" "Matt, the Northwoods is struggling and has been for awhile...how can you help?" "Matt, how will you stay grounded won't you change in Madison?" "Matt, we want to preserve the beauty of the Northwoods but also make our economy better, can you help?" And lastly, "Matt, how can we bring opportunities for the youth to come home after they get an education?" I do not have all the answers yet, but I am one of you and a 27 year old that came back to my home to start the conversation and come up with these solutions!
 I am proposing ideas that I hope will reinvigorate and revitalize the Northwoods. I know I cannot accomplish lofty goals alone, it will have to be a community effort. I ask for your support in this election. I urge all constituents of the 34th District to share stories with me, meet with me, and let me know the pros and cons of the Northwoods, because I will listen. Together we can accomplish much more, divided we cannot be strong. This community is full of great people, proud people, and determined people. I am determined to listen to you and represent us all in Madison. I ask for your consideration on August 9, 2016.

It's no-go for Pokémon GO on roadways & railways

The Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT) State Patrol warns motorists not to let the Pokémon craze drive them crazy. The mobile gaming app lets players catch Pokémon in real life and in real time using a phone's GPS and augmented reality settings. However, this creates real-world hazards for users. Wisconsin State Patrol is reporting drivers distracted by the popular new gaming app. Wisconsin alone has already experienced two Pokémon GO-related crashes. Simply, distracted driving is dangerous driving.
 "The dangers of distracted driving, also known as inattentive driving, are not exaggerated and are a growing threat to everyone on the road," says David Pabst, director of the WisDOT Bureau of Transportation Safety. "Last year in Wisconsin, 94 people were killed in crashes in which at least one driver was listed as driving inattentively. In addition, 10,615 people were injured in distracted driving crashes in 2015."
 WisDOT has been working on a number of initiatives to combat distracted driving, including new TV, radio and online productions that highlight how distracted driving is entirely preventable. The video messages, featuring a new super-villain known as the "Distractor," are available on WisDOT's YouTube channel. WisDOT has also allocated federal funding to support anti-distracted driving efforts of law enforcement task forces in select counties, and WisDOT will continue to display messages warning about the dangers of distracted driving on electronic signs on major highways across Wisconsin.
 Wisconsin State Patrol tells Pokémon players to be aware of their surroundings, and challenges them to consider safety over a high score. If you must travel longer distances to catch the rarest Pokémon, designate a driver or check out free ride services in your area. Take safety to the next level, and join Wisconsin in keeping Pokémon out of the driver's seat.

The Do's and Don'ts of harmful algal blooms

You may see algal blooms on our lakes this summer and they may be different colors such as blue, green, white, red or brown. They may look like pea soup or thick paint, foam or scum floating on the water and might have a foul odor. They can also accumulate along the shoreline.
 Cyanobacteria (Blue green algae) can cause blooms in lakes if the conditions are just right. Some types can produce toxins and can harm the liver or nervous system in humans and animals if ingested. They can also cause eye irritation, rash, vomiting, diarrhea or cold and flu-like symptoms.
 The Wisconsin Department of Health Services recommends these actions:
 Don't swim, water ski, or boat in areas where the water is discolored or where you see foam, scum, or mats of algae on the water.
 Don't let pets or livestock swim in or drink from these areas.
 Don't let pets lick the algae from their fur.
 Do rinse yourself and your pet off immediately if there is contact with algae infected waters.
 Do look for beach postings and water quality notices before swimming.
 Do get medical treatment right away if you think you, your pet, or livestock might have been poisoned by algal toxins.
 The public is encouraged to report algae related diseases by calling 608-266-1120 or online at www.dhs.wisconsin.gov/eh/bluegreenalgae/
 For more information on harmful algal blooms, go to the Wisconsin Department of Health Services or Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources websites or call the Forest County Health Department at 715-478-3371.

Hit and run driver connects with three cars

A hit and run uninsured driver managed to plow into three parked cars on Madison St., Crandon, last Tuesday. It obviously takes a bit of "skill" to keep on hitting cars after the initial contact. Fortunately, all three of the owners of the clobbered cars had insurance to cover their losses. An alert pedestrian took down the license number of the driver, and the driver was found in a short time by the Crandon Police Dept. and the Forest County Sheriff's Dept.

Amy is a 16 year old Springer Spaniel looking for a "forever" home. Amy's last home was with an older couple. Amy is friendly to everybody at the shelter. She has a hearing problem. If you have room and would love to have Amy with you, give the Forest County Humane Society a call at 715-478-2098.

Do you shop on Amazon? Do you want to help out the Forest County Humane? If so, you can help just by purchasing the things you buy on Amazon with no extra charge to you at www.smile.amazon.com. When you buy an item on smile.amazon.com, the Amazon Smile Foundation will donate .5% of the price to the organization that you choose!
