Arbutus Lutheran Annual Thanksgiving Dinner

Snow is falling, hunters are hunting and turkeys are roasting. We are happy to announce that Arbutus Lutheran Church will again be having their Annual Community Thanksgiving Dinner.

This will be our 30th year of providing the community and area hunters with a place to gather and have a traditional Thanksgiving Dinner. It started with only about 30 people and 6 turkeys. Now we are serving 150 to 200 people and cooking 18 turkeys. It has grown every year and we are so happy to serve a need in our community and surrounding area. Every year we see some of the same faces and always new ones who just heard they didn't have to spend the day alone. We will be serving a wonderful meal of turkey, dressing, gravy, cranberries, potatoes, veggies and homemade breads and desserts. The meal follows our Thanksgiving church service that starts at 10:30 a.m. All are welcomed to enjoy this meal. There is no charge but freewill offerings are always accepted.

Please join us on Thanksgiving Day at Arbutus. We are located at the corner of Hwy 55 and Cty Rd T in Pearson. We would love to see your smiling face. If you can't get out to join us, we will arrange to have a dinner delivered to your home. Please call 715-623-6850 or 715-610-9230 for more info or for delivery of a meal. Please leave a message if we don't answer right away, we will get back to as soon as we can. Happy Thanksgiving and come enjoy a turkey leg with us.

CWD surveillance efforts ramping up in Oneida, Forest and Vilas counties

Rhineland - In cooperation with local businesses, the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources will collect deer heads for chronic wasting disease surveillance testing Oneida, Vilas and Forest counties during the 2016 archery and gun hunting seasons.

If you harvest an adult deer within these counties, please consider submitting a sample from any harvested adult deer for CWD testing.

These efforts are in response to two deer harvested in an Oneida County hunting preserve testing positive for Chronic Wasting Disease in late 2015. The first step toward protecting the wild deer herd in this area of the state was the legislatively mandated enactment of a baiting and feeding ban in the three counties on Jan. 11, 2016 to reduce risk for disease transmission.

Steps that followed for this targeted area of the state included developing sampling strategies including car-killed deer, sick and injured deer reports, and deer harvested during regular hunting seasons and is a consistent response to new CWD detections in either wild or captive cervids.

Sick deer reports
 Samples will be collected from sick adult deer exhibiting signs of CWD in all three counties. Everyone is

Wabeno Area Players Present... "And Miss Reardon Drinks a Little"

Pulitzer Prize winner Paul Zindel's drama unfolds over the course of a Friday evening in October of 1970, within the apartment of the Reardon sisters in New York City. Chemistry teacher Anna Reardon has taken the death of the sisters' mother particularly hard and, when the play begins, is medicated and has missed several days of work, where she has committed a legally and ethically serious indiscretion. Assistant Principal Catherine Reardon, who lives with Anna, is attempting to deal with her sister's fixation on death, including an insistent embrace of vegetarianism, with the aid of copious amounts of both sarcasm and alcohol.

Catherine has invited the third and only married Reardon sister, Board of Education Superintendent Ceil, to dinner, inviting also all of the sisters' old grudges and new tensions into an evening further complicated when Fleur, a guidance counselor, and her businessman husband, Bob, drop by on their way to a night out. The efforts of Anna and Catherine's neighbor Mrs. Pentrano to sell them skin creams and bath crystals further underscores the underlying social conflicts.

The cultural anxieties about gender roles are most clearly on display when Bob blames the Reardon's problems on a lack of men in their lives. (His wife is more worried about increased secularization, on which she has written a paper.) The women, however, also undermine one another. Aside from the persistent and damaging swirl of onstage and offstage gossip that envelops all of the characters, Catherine and Ceil often speak over or for Anna, but when she pushes back, she gives at least as good as she gets.

The emotional push and pull among the sisters (and Fleur's self-serving insertion of herself into the goings-on) leads to some painfully honest assessments of one another and to the revelation of secrets, including one of the true roots of Anna's fears. By the end, long-simmering resentments are laid bare in the apartment, as are choices between the family and the external world, and between selfishness and sisterhood.

This production contains adult language and subject matter. Parental guidance is suggested.

For every canned food item a patron brings to the show you will get a chance to win a gift basket valued at $200. A drawing will take place at the end of each performance. Experience an "Afterglow" after the Saturday (18th) night performance. The after party will be held at THE BIG EASEL located a block from our performance. It's at 1784 Maple Avenue in Wabeno. It's a beautiful place for an evening of wine (other beverages will be available), socializing, experiencing art and culture. You will get a chance to mingle with the cast and crew of the show. The "Afterglow" will begin immediately after the show.

The production will be November 16th, 17th and 18th at 7:00 p.m. The Sunday performance will be at 1:00 p.m. on the 19th. The venue for the show will be Madonna Hall in Wabeno. It is located at 1793 Elm Ave. right behind St. Ambrose Catholic Church. Tickets are $15 each. Good Luck Hunters!

By Mike Monte

This probably won't go down in history as one of the best deer seasons in history. Deer, like ruffed grouse are in short supply these days. Why? There are probably many answers that add up to less deer.

Deer, or the lack of, can always put some people in a rage. Currently, the presence of another predator other than man has cut back on the population of whitetails. Wolves are seen regularly, and their population seems to be expanding nicely. In many parts of the area, where there is a predominance of national forest, there is also a lack of adequate browse to maintain a large deer herd. If timber isn't cut, young growth doesn't happen, and over time, there isn't enough new growth to supply the browse needed to feed a large deer herd. If you noticed, the most deer are found, these days, where there is agricultural activity. On a drive north of Argonne to Alvin, seeing a deer along the road is an event.

Another factor, so I am told, is the increased number of black bears that feed on fawns. This certainly could be a factor. While this is hardly scientific, I have noticed that I regularly see bears, and years back, when I was logging, and in the woods almost every day, seeing a bear was not common. It is now.

Maybe, we have been too liberal with doe tags in the north? Some think this has a bad effect.

The answer likely lies in a combination of all of these factors, and maybe a few more I haven't thought of. Whatever the reasons, it isn't because we have had winters with huge snows. Big winters used to mean low deer numbers, but current weather patterns haven't produced the winters we used to curse years back when logging. Most younger people can't remember a winter when the snow was waist deep. Older loggers certainly can remember when it took longer to kick the snow away from a tree than it took to cut it.

Maybe the wolf lovers will get a different perspective when wolves move south, and letting little Fluffy out in the backyard to do her duty can result in Fluffy being lunch for a wolf. Farmers will notice the loss of calves, and like many things in Wisconsin politics, when the problem moves south, it is now a real problem!

In spite of the lack of deer, deer camp can still be a good time, and the season can be enjoyed. Add in that there will be a few hunters who actually kill a trophy buck, and that you might be one of the few, keeps hope alive.

Have fun!

Deer Hunter Wildlife Survey preliminary results

MADISON - The Deer Hunter Wildlife Survey is a great opportunity for hunters to let Department of Natural Resources staff know what they are (or are not) seeing this fall.

With hunters' continued efforts, DNR staff can better track population changes and improve management decisions, especially for animals that are difficult to monitor. Hunters are encouraged to record all hunting activity, even if no wildlife sightings occur during a hunt.

In the first two months of the survey, deer hunters have recorded 547 trips, observing 355 bucks, 719 does, 493 fawns, and 149 unknowns. Turkeys and raccoons are the next most commonly seen animals while hunting. At the end of each year, survey participants can receive a personalized summary of all recorded wildlife.

To access the survey, search the DNR website, dnr.wi.gov, for keywords "deer hunter wildlife." Observations can be submitted by smartphone, desktop, or mail. The current survey period ends January 2018.

Dana E. Vladik (Collins), 44, of Wabeno, WI passed away Sunday, November 12, 2017 at St. Claire's Hospital, Weston, WI. Dana was born August 27, 1973 in Rhinelander, the daughter of Rose Ann Collins and raised by Ronald and Anna Collins. Dana was an amazing, loving, caring and one of a kind wife, mother, grandmother, daughter, sister, aunt and friend.

Dana was raised in Laona for most of her life until she moved to Wabeno. Dana married Harvey Vladik on July 27, 1990 and together they lived and raised their four children in Wabeno. She worked alongside her Vladik family and some of her closest friends making beautiful garland and Christmas wreaths at Northwood's Wreaths in Wabeno. She also was a member of the United Area Rescue Squad.

She was an avid Nascar fan especially Jimmy Johnson. She was the ultimate mother and grandma. Her greatest achievement in life was her children and grandchildren. She loved to spoil them rotten. Dana loved being around family and friends. She had so much love for everyone.

Grow North seeks assurances rail line won't be dug up

Regional economic leaders are asking the federal government to keep 49 miles of rail lines in place from Rhinelander to Goodman.

In a letter to the Surface Transportation Board, Wisconsin Central LTD. is asking to change the status of the line from 'out of service' to 'discontinued'.

Oneida County Economic Development Corporation Executive Director Roger Luce says while seemingly a small change is status, it could have long term consequences..

"....we believe Wisconsin Central LTD. could, in fact, under the discontinuance petition, could pull up all the assets along that rail line. What they would be looking for is an easier abandonment at that point. If the infrastructure is not there, for them to abandon it within two years would be very easy...."

Luce says if the lines are gone, any chance of another short-haul carrier coming in to replace service is gone, as well, due to replacement costs.

Northwoods Rail Transit Commission and Grow North Regional Economic Development Corporation asked federal regulators to make sure if the line is discontinued due to low use, that the rails stay in place.

Legal counsel for Wisconsin Central LTD. sent a letter to Northwoods petitioners saying Wisconsin Central is not authorized to salvage the Rhinelander to Goodman line.

Luce will make a presentation on the situation to the Grow North meeting Friday at Nicolet College.

Five Truths about Lung Cancer

November marks Lung Cancer Awareness Month – a month to bring awareness to a disease that claims the lives of 1.6 million people annually, according to the World Health Organization.

“Lung cancer is the deadliest cancer in both men and women, and the disease causes more deaths than colon, breast and prostate cancer combined,” said Tammy Perry, APNP, from the James Beck Cancer Center at Ascension St. Mary’s Hospital.

Lung cancer is a complex disease to understand and treat. Here are five truths about lung cancer from the American Lung Association:

1. Lung cancer occurs when cells in the lungs change, or mutate. Lung cancer occurs when a person has abnormal cells that cluster together to form a tumor. Unlike normal cells, cancer cells grow without order or control, and cancerous cells destroy the healthy lung tissue around them. When cancer cells grow too fast, they prevent organs of the body from functioning normally.
2. Anyone can get lung cancer. Various factors can cause the mutation of cells that leads to lung cancer. Most often, this change in lung cells happens when a person is exposed to dangerous, toxic substances, such as tobacco smoke, radon, pollution, or industrial compounds like dust and fumes.
3. Symptoms of lung cancer vary. Many people who have lung cancer don’t experience symptoms until the disease is in later stages. Symptoms of lung cancer include constant chest pain, a cough that doesn’t go away, hoarseness, shortness of breath, coughing up blood, and frequent lung infections.
4. Lung cancer is difficult to detect early. One reason lung cancer is so deadly is that it’s hard to find in the early stages. It can take years for the cancer to grow and there are usually no early symptoms. Because there are very few nerve endings in the lungs, a tumor can grow without causing pain or discomfort. By the time a person begins experiencing symptoms, the cancer has often spread to other parts of the body.
5. Lung cancer can be treated more successfully when it is found early. Researchers continue to work on developing tests that can find lung cancer in its early stages. New studies have shown that low-dose CT screenings (LDCT) are particularly important for high-risk individuals.

Early detection of any cancer or disease is critical, especially for those at high risk. A lung cancer screening program is available at Ascension Saint Mary’s Hospital in Rhinelander.

Collaborating with the James Beck Cancer Center, Ascension Saint Mary’s is a designated Lung Cancer Screening Center by the American College of Radiology (ACR). The ACR Lung Cancer Screening Center designation is a voluntary program that recognizes facilities that have committed to practice safe, effective diagnostic care for individuals at the highest risk for lung cancer.

Lung cancer screening with low-dose CT scans and appropriate follow-up care significantly reduces lung cancer deaths.

The United States Preventive Services Task Force recommends screening of adults aged 55 to 80 years who have a 30 pack-year smoking history and currently smoke or have quit within the past 15 years.

Medicare, Medicaid and most Commercial Insurance companies offer coverage to those patients that meet the appropriate qualifying guidelines for the screening. For some insurance, a preauthorization may be required.

The Team at the James Beck Cancer Center will work closely with each patient to ensure qualifying guidelines are met along with validation of insurance coverage.

This screening will save lives. If you or someone you know falls into this category, it is important to consider participating in this screening program.

For more information, please contact the James Beck Cancer Center at 715.361.2143.

Moving large amounts of earth takes special skill. In order to do that in a safe and effective manner, 12 people enrolled in and recently completed the Basic Heavy Equipment Operator program offered through Nicolet College.

Along with basic equipment operation and different earth-moving techniques, the nearly 100 hours of training included electromechanical fundamentals, site preparation and grading, transporting equipment, and flagging.

The program was created through a collaborative effort between Nicolet, the Lac du Flambeau Tribe and the Sokaogon Chippewa Community.

The students were selected through a competitive application process with scholarships provided by the Tribal Labor Advisory Committee, which seeks to enhance and expand Native American job opportunities on Wisconsin Department of Transportation projects.

Several area companies worked with Nicolet to provide field-based instruction and technical expertise. These included Ponsse North America, Musson Brothers, and CrossTrac Forestry Equipment (formerly Pioneer Equipment) in Rhinelander, Nortrax in Merrill, and Enterprise Forest Products in Enterprise.

Fruit and Vegetable Tips

Submitted by Kathy O'Melia

Fresh vs. Canned vs. Frozen

- Because fresh produce loses nutrients over time, one way to preserve as many nutrients as possible is to use fresh fruits and vegetables as soon as possible after you purchase them.

- Nutrients can be lost when fresh produce is shipped over long distances, warehoused for periods of time or improperly stored anytime, anywhere from the farm to the table.

Cooking Vegetables

- Whether you use fresh, frozen or canned vegetables, avoid overcooking. The longer you cook, the more vitamins and minerals can be lost in the cooking water.

- You can preserve nutrients by using small amounts of water and by reusing the cooking water. Keep the vegetable cooking water in the fridge or freeze the liquid into ice cubes.

- You can add the flavorful, nutrient-rich veggie broth the mashed potatoes or use it as the base for soups and stews.

Microwave Vegetables

- After rinsing fresh vegetables, you can usually microwave them with only the water clinging to them. It takes very little time - less than 1 minute for a big mound of fresh spinach leaves or about 2 to 2 1/2 minutes for a single layer of cut green beans on a dinner plate.

- Canned and frozen items take even less time because they're already partially cooked and only require reheating.

Get a Lot...for a Little

Because they're high in vitamins and minerals and low in calories, fruits and vegetables are considered nutrient-rich. Calorie-wise, eating produce is a low-cost way to get many essential nutrients. Whether fresh, frozen or canned, fruits and vegetables provide a wealth of good nutrition for your continued health and wellness.

encouraged to keep an eye out for deer that appear sick or are otherwise acting abnormally so biologists can assess if symptoms are consistent with CWD infection. Sick deer can be reported to the Woodruff, Rhinelander, and Florence DNR offices or directly to the following DNR Wildlife Management staff:

Vilas County - Michele Woodford, 751-356-5211, ext. 207; Oneida County - Jeremy Holtz, 715-365-8999; and Forest County - Chuck McCullough, 715-623-4190, ext. 3131.

Car-killed deer

DNR staff will collect samples from adult deer killed by vehicles within ten miles of Three Lakes as opportunities arise. Individuals who wish to keep car-killed deer can still do so, but are encouraged to allow DNR staff to collect samples beforehand. Deer can be sampled by contacting the biologists listed previously. Hunter harvest

CWD samples will be collected from adult deer harvested by hunters in all three counties during the 2016-17 deer hunting seasons. Head samples will be collected at cooperating locations throughout the area. Sampling location information is still being updated - check the CWD sampling webpage for updates as additional locations are added. In addition, hunters may also contact the DNR Wildlife Management staff listed above.

Wisconsin's citizens and cooperators have played a key role in CWD sampling efforts in Wisconsin, and department staff appreciate all participants and collection cooperators for their continued efforts.

For more information and a list of participating taxidermists and deer processors, visit dnr.wi.gov and search keywords "CWD sampling." For CWD testing results, search keywords "CWD test results."

Deer hunters are encouraged to check out the frequently asked questions page for more information regarding deer hunting in Wisconsin. The FAQ feature provides brief responses to a wide variety of deer hunting questions, ranging from deer management unit boundaries to antlerless permits. To view the FAQ page and more information regarding archery and crossbow deer hunting, search keyword "deer."

Winter road conditions available statewide on 511

As of Wednesday, November 15, current winter road conditions are visible on the mobile-friendly 511 Wisconsin website (<https://511wi.gov>) and mobile app. This information is populated by frequent reporting from the Wisconsin State Patrol and enhanced by updates from additional highway staff in-the-field.

On the website's map of Wisconsin, interstates and select state roadways have corresponding colors to represent conditions. They are (listed from best to worst) good winter driving, slippery stretches, snow covered, ice covered, and travel not advised. No information will also be represented when data is not available for that segment of road.

As the State of Wisconsin continues to recognize National Traffic Incident Response Week (November 13 – 19), drivers are asked to plan ahead to avoid the most hazardous routes if possible. Wisconsin has been seeing an average of more than 200 crashes annually involving at least one emergency vehicle that's engaged in an emergency response. Emergency responders, including law enforcement, firefighters, EMTs, tow truck operators and highway maintenance crews, are especially vulnerable during heavy volumes of traffic amid winter weather conditions.

In the last five years, Wisconsin has averaged 18,600 motor vehicle crashes during the winter months when roads are covered with ice, snow or slush. On average, 48 people are killed and more than 4,600 injured in Wisconsin each winter season in crashes when roads are covered in ice, snow and slush.

Safe driving is everyone's job.

• Slow down and move over when passing by an incident scene to provide a protective buffer for responders and the motorists behind you.

• If you can steer it, clear it. Many drivers think they should not move their car if they are involved in a fender-bender or crash. If (and only if) your car is drivable and there are no injuries, you should move your car to the shoulder or nearby safe place off of the road before calling for help.

• Visit <http://wisconsin.gov/staysafe> to learn more about safe driving tips, links to best practices for winter road safety, and the law.

• Never access 511 information while driving. Either safely pull off of the highway, or have a passenger check it.

The winter road conditions have been active already in select areas that had snowfall. Later this week an additional segment will begin having reports: WIS 441 in the Appleton area from I-41 to US 10. The winter road conditions feature is anticipated to run until April 2018.

INSURANCE TIP
HEATING WITH WOOD & PELLET BURNERS

Outdoor wood furnaces & pellet burners have become increasingly popular. Some companies charge a premium of $15 to $50. Others do not. Contact your agent to do an inspection or if you have questions before you install or have it installed.

If you are burning wood, follow all manufacturer's guidelines for installation or hire a professional to do the installation for you.

Here are some more safety tips:

1. Burn seasoned wood. Wood two years old or more.

2. Place ashes in a covered metal container to keep wind from blowing coals and sparks around.

3. Clean your chimney at least twice a year, using an approved cleaning method.

4. Install smoke alarms on same level as stove and have a fire extinguisher close by.

5. Every year, make sure your smoke pipe is firmly in place where it enters the chimney and screw sections together.

Senator Baldwin on Buy American Standard in National Defense Authorization Act

Final NDAA released by House-Senate conference committee also includes wins for Made in Wisconsin manufacturing and shipbuilding

WASHINGTON, D.C. – The final fiscal year 2018 National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA) released today by the House-Senate conference committee includes Buy American requirements that U.S. Senator Tammy Baldwin fought for in the bipartisan legislation.

“I fought for a Buy American policy that supports our manufacturers and our workers, as well as our national and economic security,” said Senator Baldwin. “I’m proud to get the job done on this because when American taxpayer money is spent on our military it should be spent buying American products built by our workers. We can now say the NDAA rewards the hard work of American workers.”

The NDAA passed by the Senate in September included section 863, which eliminated a number of critical Buy American requirements in defense procurement laws. Senator Baldwin offered an amendment to reverse this provision and after it wasn’t given a vote, she took her fight to the House-Senate conference committee. Last month she led 15 of her Senate colleagues in pressing the conference committee to include critical Buy American requirements in defense procurement laws.

The legislation also includes measures Senator Baldwin fought for to support Made in Wisconsin manufacturing and shipbuilding.

The final NDAA includes full funding for Oshkosh Defense’s Joint Light Tactical Vehicle. “I have worked hard to support manufacturing jobs at Oshkosh Defense and have long pushed to fully fund the procurement of military vehicles made in Wisconsin,” Senator Baldwin said.

While Senator Baldwin included a bipartisan amendment to add $600 million for a second Littoral Combat Ship (LCS) to the Senate-passed NDAA’s original level of one, that was still one ship short of the ideal number of three vessels. Accordingly, Senator Baldwin then pressed the House-Senate conference committee to include funding for three Littoral Combat Ships. This effort was successful, and the final NDAA includes funding for three ships, which will maintain workforce levels at the shipyard in Marinette and throughout the supply chain across Wisconsin.

“I take great pride in representing Wisconsin’s shipbuilding industry because our workers have helped sustain America’s security for generations, boasting a successful history of building ships for our nation’s defense,” said Senator Baldwin. “The LCS program is supported by thousands of skilled workers at the Marinette Marine shipyard and at the 200 suppliers across Wisconsin. This is a big win for Made in Wisconsin shipbuilding.”

For Old Time's Sake

A train ride up north to Padus puts you in prime deer country, and a room at the Hammes hotel, complete with your own thunder mug under the bed gives you all the luxury you could want. Then, after a long night of drinking beer, one of your hunting partners wants you to get up and hunt in the morning, so you pull your Winchester out and threaten him. Instead of being scared, he takes your picture.

The early days of hunting didn't require the red clothing, and blaze orange would have made these guys drop their eyeballs! Just wear warm clothes and hope your hunting partners didn't accidentally shoot you was the way it worked.

Goodman-Armstrong Creek Celebrates American Education Week

Goodman- Armstrong Creek Board of Education along with District Administrator, Allison Space, would like to thank all staff of the GAC School District!

Our school is the cornerstone of our communities. We welcome students of all backgrounds, abilities and incomes, and each of us plays a role in ensuring our schools are open to all. This month, during American Education Week, let us as a rural community celebrate the wonderful role we all play in educating our children.

We thank our bus drivers, food service staff, support staff, office staff, custodial staff, and teaching staff! We recognize the extra you do and thank you for all the hard work!

I see how short life is and how often I forgot to look in Cindy's eyes and stop time long enough to say she made my life all the more meaningful because of her friendship.

I miss her so much. Mary Jo

Marry a hunter and just wait and see exactly what a marriage is going to be. Don't bother to whine, don't think to complain.

You must understand to hunt is in his veins.

He's a good hubby, he loves you so... But...don't ever ask him to give up his gun.

As he talks about hunting, his face seems to change.

The stories he tells may sound rather strange.

But the spark in his eyes, and smile on his face show the little boy joy that has come over the place!

So make up your mind to be a good hunter's wife.

Save yourself all the toil and end all the strife.

Don't be unhappy and never be sad. To be part of his life should make you feel glad.

For you know now, and he will too, that he has found the best catch the day he married you!

If love could bring you back, you would be on your deer stand waiting for that 10 point buck.

We Love You And Miss You,
Your Family & Friends

For Old Time's Sake

This old hunting picture was taken in Padus in the early 1900's. The photo is damaged on the right, but there is a small set of horns on the deer to the right. If you look closely, you will see that the deer in the foreground is a spike buck. We don't know who the hunters are, but the lady in the picture is Annie Hammes, whose father founded this small town that had a sawmill, store, post office and buildings that are now gone. The small town was between Wabeno and Laona, and people still live there. The little girl in the photo was Helen Hammes, which some of you may remember as Helen Chinnock, who had a cottage on Trump Lake in her older years.

Johnson statement on current tax reform proposals

WASHINGTON – U.S. Sen. Ron Johnson (R-Wis.) issued the following statement regarding the tax reform proposals currently being discussed in Congress:

“We have an opportunity to enact paradigm-shifting tax reform that makes American businesses globally competitive, helps our economy reach its full potential, and creates greater opportunity and bigger paychecks for every American. In doing so, it is important to maintain the domestic competitive position and balance between large publicly traded C corporations and “pass-through entities” (subchapter S corporations, partnerships and sole proprietorships). These businesses truly are the engines of innovation and job creation throughout our economy, and they should not be left behind. Unfortunately, neither the House nor Senate bill provide fair treatment, so I do not support either in their current versions. I do, however, look forward to working with my colleagues to address the disparity so I can support the final version.”

December Mindfulness for the Holidays

Ascension Koller Behavioral Health offers a monthly Mindfulness program in Rhinelander that is free to anyone in the community.

"Mindfulness for the Holidays" is the featured program for December and will be offered on Thursday, December 7, from 5-6:30 p.m. and Tuesday, December 19 from 1-2:30 p.m. Both sessions will be held at Ascension Koller Behavioral Health, 1020 Kabel Avenue in the 2nd floor conference room. Advanced registration is not required.

"The holidays often bring up an array of emotions, demands, and activities," said Kathy Mitchell, MA of Ascension Koller Behavioral Health. "This seasonally favorite program will discuss how to not get overwhelmed and stay present and centered in this time of so many expectations."

Ascension Koller Behavioral Health also offers the Riverside Meditation Group. In December the meditation group will meet on Thursday, December 14 at 5:30 p.m.

Riverside Meditation Group is an opportunity for anyone with a meditation practice to have regular group support. There are two twenty minute seated meditations with either walking meditation or Qigong in between. The meditation model is silent and still with occasional guided meditations. At the end a short talk focusing on enhancing skills of mindfulness and meditation. The Riverside Meditation Group draws from western psychological mindfulness teachings, philosophy, literature, and poetry.
