It has been crazy busy here in Land Conservation so for the second week in a row our article today comes from our neighbors, this time at the Forest County Division of Extension.

On May 1st, Forest County Division of Extension held its first Master Gardener program for individuals interested in becoming Master Gardener Volunteers. The first meeting was an orientation session with ten individuals registering for the six-month training program that will offer University-based research on garden management principals and hands-on horticulture training coordinated by Master Garden Volunteer Jill Krueger. The orientation was a complete success and it is exciting to have a full class of participants.

Crandon International Raceway prepares to celebrate 2019's "Golden Anniversary Season"

Two big race weekends and lots of surprises for fans and racers-camping and grandstands tickets still available

There are celebrations, there are extravaganzas and then there are parties. If Crandon International Raceway has anything to say about it, the track's 2019 "Golden Anniversary Season" will be an unforgettable combination of all three.

With the remnants of a long winter finally disappearing from the Wisconsin Northwoods, on-track testing at Crandon's legendary 1.75-mile dirt circuit has now started in earnest. The first sounds of off-road racing in the Midwest are now just five weeks away, with teams in a variety of both Pro and Sportsman divisions preparing for a very special year.

With off-road motorsports first appearing in the remote town of Crandon in 1970, track officials have spent a busy winter preparing for two big race weekends in 2019. First up will be the 26th Forest County Potawatomi Community Brush Run on June 15th -16th, and then the huge 50th Crandon World Championship Off-Road Races® held over Labor Day weekend August 29th - September 1st.

Tenant rights Submitted by Kathy O'Melia

When a person rents an apartment, they are entering into an agreement with a landlord. The agreement controls many aspects of the rights and responsibilities the person and landlord have with respect to renting the apartment. Oftentimes, if a dispute arises, the terms of that rental agreement will control how the landlord and tenant should resolve the dispute. Thus, it is very important that tenants keep a copy of the agreement, read it, and understand the terms.

In addition to rental agreements, federal and state laws also create rights and responsibilities for tenants and landlords. Some laws prevent a landlord from doing certain things no matter what terms are in the landlord's rental agreement. Examples of areas where Wisconsin law protects tenant's rights includes that a landlord:

- · Cannot refuse to rent to someone or take other discriminatory actions due to the person's race, color, gender, religion, national origin or ancestry, sexual orientation, familial status or disability.
- · Cannot generally enter a tenant's apartment without providing at least 12 hours advance notice. An exception to the 12-hour notice requirement is if:
- a. an emergency exists that threatens someone's health or safety; or,
- b. the tenant is absent, and the landlord believes the entry is necessary to prevent damage to the apartment.

· Cannot evict a tenant without first obtaining a court order.

- · Has 21 days after a lease ends to send the full security deposit and/or an itemized list of deductions.
- · Cannot retaliate against a tenant for trying to protect his or her rights.

• Must follow the terms of the lease agreement.

It is important to understand that this list is only a brief explanation of rights, and often tenants may need a lawyer to enforce these rights. In addition to lawyer assistance, tenants can reach out to the following entities for explanations of their rights:

1. The Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection (DATCP) has a pamphlet titled "The Guide for Landlords and Tenants." This guide answers commonly asked questions about landlordtenant rights. It is available at https:// datcp.wi.gov/Documents/LTLandlordTenantGuide497.pd f. Coupons for Medicare beneficiaries and the federal anti-kick back statute Submitted by Kathy O'Melia

Drug companies provide coupons that can reduce or eliminate the cost of patients' out-of-pocket copayments for certain drugs. As with most coupons, the reason the drug companies provide the coupons is to encourage patients to buy the drug. Although coupons reduce individual patients' costs, coupons may increase the cost of prescription drugs for health insurers.

A 2013 study from The New England Journal of Medicine found that 58 percent of coupons were for brand-name drugs for which a lower cost generic alternative was available. Manufacturer coupons oftentimes encourage patients to obtain more expensive brand-name drugs when lower cost alternatives are available. These coupons may reduce beneficiaries' immediate out-of-pocket costs, but if the individuals are enrolled in a Part D plan, the Part D program's costs may increase, ultimately increasing costs to Part D enrollees.

To address this and other issues, Congress enacted a federal law commonly referred to as the antikickback statute. The anti-kickback statute prohibits giving anything of value to people covered by a federal healthcare program to gain their business. Manufacturers may be liable under the anti-kickback statute if they offer coupons to induce the purchase of drugs paid for by federal health care programs including Medicare Part D.

Despite the anti-kickback statute, surveys have found that approximately 6 to 7 percent of surveyed seniors reported using manufacturer coupons toward their copayment for Medicare paid prescription drugs. Applying these results to the population of 36 million Part D beneficiaries means more than 2 million Part D beneficiaries could use coupons to cover prescription drugs.

The consequences for violating the anti-kickback statute are steep. Criminal penalties can include fines up to $25,000 and a five-year prison term per kickback violation. Civil penalties can be as much as $50,000 per kickback violation in addition to three times the amount of damages sustained by the government. In addition, a violation can result in exclusion from federal health care programs including Medicare and Medicaid, and parallel loss of state licensure, hospital privileges, and participation in managed care contracts. The penalty may apply to both the party receiving the kickback and the party making the kickback upon a showing that the violation was "knowing and willful."

As one example, Walgreens recently agreed to pay $50 million to the federal government and states to settle allegations that it illegally gave discounts to federal healthcare program beneficiaries to encourage them to fill their prescriptions at Walgreens. Walgreens enrolled hundreds of thousands of Medicare, Medicaid, and TRICARE beneficiaries into its Prescription Savings Club, which gave members discounts on drugs and rebates on other Walgreens-branded products such as household, baby care, and grocery items.

President Trump's Budget Potential Impact on Seniors

By the GWAAR Legal Services Team (for reprint)

On February 12, President Trump released his budget proposal for fiscal year 2019, which could significantly decrease benefits for the elderly and disabled. The budget plan is not a law, and probably won't become law. However, it does reveal the administration's priorities and values. It serves as a map for future rulemaking and legislation. The record $4.7 trillion federal budget for 2020 calls for a 5% cut to social programs. Some things within Trump's budget that would likely impact seniors include the following:

- Cuts Medicare Funding The proposal eliminates $845 billion from Medicare funding over the next 10 years, mainly, the proposal says, by eliminating waste, fraud and abuse and by cutting payments to certain hospitals and other providers. For example, the proposal would provide less money to compensate hospitals for treating patients who don't or can't pay their bills. The proposal also calls for requiring Medicare beneficiaries to get prior approval for certain medical services that the administration says are ripe for waste and fraud, although it doesn't specify which services.
- Repeals the Affordable Care Act (ACA) & Cuts Funding for Programs in the ACA - The proposal adopts the ACA repeal-and-replace bill sponsored by Senators Ron Johnson, Bill Cassidy, Lindsey Graham, and Dean Heller. Trump's proposed budget then suggests cutting funding for coverage programs deeply below the levels in that bill.
- Decreases Medicaid Funding The proposal decreases Medicaid funding by more than $1.4 trillion over the next decade. The budget would eliminate the ACA's Medicaid expansion, which has extended coverage to 12 million low-income adults, as well as its Marketplace subsidies, which help more than 8 million people afford coverage. The budget would also convert the rest of the Medicaid program, which covers seniors, people with disabilities, children, and pregnant women to a per capita cap, limiting the amount of federal funding for each person enrolled in Medicaid regardless of need.
- Eliminates most federal SHIP funding The proposal severely curtails or eliminates the SHIP programs, which provide free, one-on-one counseling to Medicare beneficiaries, with over 3,000 state and local offices and over 15,000 counselors. Trump's proposed budget would lower SHIP's $52 million annual budget by $49 million, effectively ending federal support of the program. The administration justified the proposal by noting that Medicare beneficiaries have other sources for information, such as the federal 1-800-MEDICARE helpline.
- · Abolishes the only federal training program dedicated to solely serving older adults - the proposal eliminates the Senior Community Service Employment Program (SCSEP), a training and job placement program for adults over 55. Created in 1965, SCSEP is the nation's oldest program to help low-income, unemployed individuals age 55 and older find work. There are no similar federal programs for older adults, and 65,081 lowincome older Americans received paid employment and training in Fiscal Year 2015. SCSEP participants gain work experience in a variety of community service activities at non-profit and public facilities, including schools, hospitals, day-care centers, and senior centers. The program provides over 40 million community service hours to public and non-profit agencies, allowing them to enhance and provide needed services. This training serves as a bridge to unsubsidized employment opportunities for participants.
- Reduces SNAP funding The proposal cuts the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP, formerly food stamps) by $213 billion over 10 years, which represents a nearly 30% cut. Seniors, the unemployed, and low-income working families with children would bear the brunt of the cuts. The largest SNAP savings in the budget would come from cutting household benefits by more than $260 billion over ten years some 40 percent and using about half these funds to provide households a government-purchased non-perishable food box in lieu of food that households currently purchase at a grocery store. The proposal also eliminates SNAP nutrition education.

Freezes most funding in the Older Americans Act and related programs - The proposal would roughly freeze funding for the nation's senior services programs, continuing a decade-long trend. The budget proposes very small increases in some areas and would cut funding for others, such as falls prevention, elder rights support, and chronic disease self-management.

Correction to Last Week's Letter to the Editor from Shirley Mills

To the Editor:

This is to address a problem we are having with the up keep of the Veterans Memorial building and grounds. We do not have enough people to help the Forest County Veterans Memorial Association do the work.

It has gotten to the point where we do not have enough members or participants to help with all that's involved in maintaining the Memorial Building.

We are down to 3 people trying to keep the FCVMA going. This task was given to us year's ago. This south west corner of the court house square was given to the Veterans by the County Board at that time. Thus the FCVMA was given the responsibility to see that the building and grounds were taken care of. Kerry Groat, Tim Bahr and myself Shirley Mills have been doing what we can to keep it going.

Membership has gone down. Veterans are getting older and the younger Veterans do not join any Veteran organizations. You do not have to be a Veterans to belong to the FCVMA. Membership cost $5 a year or if you only want to volunteer that would be nice.

Our dinners we used to have on Nov. 11th used to pay the bill's. The raffles we had from donations from business's and individuals covered all expenses and repair's. We have not been able to have the dinner because we do not have the people to help set up at City Hall Community Building. It takes a lot of work and people to organize this dinner. We never made any money on the dinner. It was the raffle's that gave us the funds to take care of the building and plant flower's in the boxes.

Do you know who pay's the light bill for the Memorial Building? The FCVMA. These light's help keep vandal's from damaging the building at night.

The Chamber use's our south west corner for all of their events. A few year's back they also plugged into our electricity for the food court. We asked the Chamber if they would pay for what they used. (They refused.) So we started shutting off the electric when they had an event coming up. They made money and we paid the electric bill. This was just not right. They had to find an alternate way to get the electricity they needed. They have never even offered a donation.

Last year we had someone complain about the timber's needing to be replaced around the raised letter's VETERANS MEMORIAL. Kerry, me and a veteran had already looked at this work that needed to be done. Our problem was finding the money to do it. The American Legion stepped up and gave us the majority of the money needed to replace the timber's. For this we were very grateful. We hired a Veteran to do the work.

If we can not get new member's or volunteer's to help us, and to find new ways to raise money, I am not sure where we go from here.

This may be our last year to put on the Memorial Day program. To me that is a very sad thing to even think about.

If you would like more information or care to join please feel free to call me.

For Old Time's Sake

It had to be a sad day in Laona back on March 13, 1914. The Connor Company Store burned, and where was a family to get all of the items that it took to keep a household running? Well, the needs of the town were met somehow, and before long there was a big brick company store that is now over a 100 years old and needing restoration. Happily, that restoration has started, so let us hope it is successful and a bit of Laona history is saved.

The finished store!

The new store was next to the Gordon Hotel and the Laona State Bank

50 YEARS OF CHANGE: From the original diary farm just outside of downtown (top) to today's magnificent, purpose-built facility, Crandon International Raceway has witnessed five decades of change and expansion. Track officials are expected to announce additional attractions and upgrades during this year's 50th anniversary season. (photos: Crandon Archives/Jeff Keeble)

"Our staff and Board of Directors has been working hard to position ourselves for this big 50th anniversary season for years," explained Crandon International Raceway President Cliff Flannery. "We have so many plans now in place to celebrate a great racing and family tradition, including some great additions to our race weekends as well as new and returning partners we can't wait to announce over the coming weeks. Buckle up fans, the 'Big House' is going to get even bigger in 2019!"

Unlike every other location in off-road racing, for 50 years Crandon International Raceway has served as a permanent facility found on 400-plus acres of woodlands in Northern Wisconsin. The former farm includes rich green grass fields to host up to 50,000 fans from all over the America and Canada. Many of the Crandon faithful have made this annual pilgrimage an annual family tradition with camping, fireworks and tons of bratwurst creating an unforgettable weekend better known as "the Crandon Experience."

With roots that stretch back to its inaugural running in 1970, June's Crandon's Forest County Potawatomi Community "Brush Run" is the first of two visits by Lucas Oil Midwest Short Course League in 2019. Crandon will once again welcome summer to the American heartland with the sounds of high-horsepower unlimited Pro 2 and Pro 4 trucks, and with the highly competitive Pro Lite trucks and Pro UTVs, as well as a jampacked race schedule filled with all of the MORR Sportsman categories.

The weekend's feature race will be Sunday afternoon's "Forest County Potawatomi Community Cup Challenge," which pits the unlimited Pro 4 versus Pro 2 categories separated by a timed, staggered start. The intense annual race is a fan favorite, and offers drivers one of the largest cash prizes in the sport. In 1994, the first Forest County Potawatomi Chairman's Cup race was won in 1994 by desert racing veteran Curt LeDuc, driving a Ford

50 YEARS OF CHANGE (TAKE 2): From the homebuilt buggy of the original Brush Run race winners (top) to today's ultra sophisticated Pro UTVs (above, right) and 900-horsepower Pro 4 trucks, Crandon International Raceway has hosted the very best of the best for five decades. Labor Day weekend 2019 is expected to be the biggest racing event in Crandon's long history, with a long list of special happenings and added fan attractions expected to be finalized and announced soon. What is known is that the weekend will incorporate a commemorative run through the original 25-mile course through the woods outside of Crandon on Wednesday, August 28th, and an expanded annual Crandon Labor Day weekend parade will take place on Friday, August 30th.

On Saturday, September 1st, season-long Lucas Oil Midwest Short Course League championships will be decided in both the Pro and Sportsman divisions. MORR Sportsman World Championship rings will also be awarded that weekend, while Crandon International is expecting to play host to special concerts, events and races to commemorate its 50th anniversary.

For the fourth consecutive year, the Labor Day weekend will feature the sport's most important race day - the annual Crandon World Cup on Sunday, September 2nd. Hosted and promoted by Crandon International Raceway, the special day has been created to attract the world's best off-road racers and teams to compete for Crandon World Championships® in a variety of Pro-level classes and the big Crandon World Cup Pro 2 versus Pro

UW-Madison prof talks on tick, mosquito disease prevention May 22 at Nicolet

Ticks, mosquitoes and the many diseases they can transmit to humans will be the focus of a presentation Wednesday, May 22, at Nicolet College by a leading researcher from the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

The free event will run from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. in the Nicolet College Theatre located in the Lakeside

For decades, Susan Paskewitz, professor and chair of the Department of Entomology at UW-Madison, has been studying these blood sucking anthropods and and their impact on human health.

Along with some "fun facts" about these typically vilified creatures, Paskewitz will discuss the current picture for disease risks in the state and concerns for new invasive species.

She'll also provide information about what works for personal protection as well as strategies available for controlling these pests on properties.

Along with Lyme disease, ticks transmit a host of other diseases including anaplasmosis, babesiosis, spotted fevers, and the powassan virus. Mosquitoes have their own suite of maladies that include West Nile virus, LaCrosse encephalitis, heartworm and chikungunya fever, the latter fortunately being rare.

Paskewitz joined the faulty at UW-Madison in 1991 and before that worked for the Center for Disease Control and Prevention. She and others in her lab conduct research and outreach to the general public with a focus on the development of pest control methods that are as effective as possible while minimizing impact on the environment in general.

Along with conducting research, she also teaches courses in medical entomology, insect pest suppression, and global health.

The presentation is being sponsored by Learning in Retirement at Nicolet, the Northern Highland Wisconsin Area Health Education Center, and the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

For more information, contact Learning in Retirement at lir@nicoletcollege.edu or call (715) 365-4491, 1-800-544-3039, ext. 4491; TTY 1-800-947-3529 or Nicolet College is located one mile south of Rhinelander just off of Hwy. G.

Summer Food Service Program

(For sponsors that are not camps and that establish program eligibility by geographic area)

Stressing the importance of offering nutritious meals to children during the summer months, the Wabeno Area School District announces the sponsorship of the Summer Food Service Program.

The Summer Food Service Program (SFSP), which is funded by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) and is administered by the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction, provides nutritious meals to children during the summer, when free and reduced-price school meals are typically unavailable. Free meals will be made available to children 18 years of age and under. Persons over 18 years of age who are determined by a state or local public educational agency to be mentally or physically disabled and who also participate in a public or private non-profit school program during the regular school year may receive free meals as well.

The following locations will be serving the free meals this summer Wabeno Elementary a free breakfast from 8AM to 9AM and a free lunch from 11AM to 12PM Monday trough Friday. Summer school runs from June 17 through July 12h. School is not in session the 4th and 5th of July. Meals are provided to eligible children regardless of race, color, national origin, age, gender or disability and there will be no discrimination in the course of meal service

"This program fills a void created when school lunches are not available," said Wabeno Area School District. "Helping parents meet the nutritional needs of their children is the strength of this program."

As part of the program, in return for their University based training, the participants will serve as the front-line to the public by answering home garden related questions and expanding gardening opportunities into the community. Some of the many educational projects that Master Gardener Volunteers conduct throughout Wisconsin include: battling invasive species and protecting native plants; creating and supporting community gardens; restoring historic gardens; teaching children about plants, gardening and the environment; and enhancing public spaces. The ten volunteers currently enrolled in the Master Gardener course are excited to begin their hands-on learning and look forward to making a difference in their community as Extension volunteers.

As you may see, this program has the potential to benefit many programs in Forest County, from healthy eating, to mental benefits of gardening, to land conservation. In the realm of land conservation, we hope in the few years to establish tree, plant and shrub sales to promote land conservation activities. The master gardener program may be a primary force to work on this project. This demonstrates the behind the scenes cooperation of County and Extension Programs to bring additional items to Forest County.

On May 14th, the Land Conservation Department worked with many agencies to bring a stream crossing workshop to Forest County. Look forward to next week's article to detail what that workshop was about. Have a good week and enjoy Forest County!

Stroke: Do you know what to do?

It can happen anywhere, at any time, to anyone. A stroke is also known as a "brain attack", and can lead to severe debilitation and even death. A stroke occurs when the blood flow to the brain is cut off causing the brain tissue to die. When the brain tissue begins to die, the abilities controlled by that area of the brain, such as memory and muscle control, are lost. This can happen at any area of the brain, and each part affects your body differently.

So how does the blood flow get cut off? The same as a heart attack: plaque in blood vessels floats through your blood and lodges in a smaller blood vessel, often times blocking it off. This is known as an Ischemic Stroke. Another, less common stroke, is called a Hemorrhagic Stroke. This occurs when an aneurysm or weakened blood vessel bursts into the brain.

According to the National Stroke Association, nearly 800,000 Americans suffer a new or recurrent stroke each year and is the fifth leading cause of death in the United States. The treatment for Ischemic Strokes is time sensitive and can be life-saving, but has to be within four hours of the onset of symptoms. If you notice the symptoms, call 911 as this is a medical emergency.

Symptoms to watch for include face drooping, arm weakness, speech difficulty, lasting dizziness, or mental changes. Vision changes and feeling unstable when walking can also be seen in strokes. These symptoms will start suddenly, and will go on unless medical treatment is initiated.

A Transient Ischemic Attack (TIA) can mimic a stroke, but resolves by itself in a matter of minutes or hours. This is caused by a stop in blood flow to the brain for a short period of time, that then opens up again from a dislodged clot. These mini-strokes can be a warning sign, reports Mayo Clinic, as 1 in 3 people who have TIAs will eventually have a stroke, with about half occurring within the year after the TIA. If you are concerned for TIA-like symptoms report them to your doctor promptly.

Most strokes are preventable by living a healthy lifestyle. Sticking to a healthy diet, along with exercising on a regular basis can greatly reduce your risk. High fat foods, or foods high in cholesterol increase your risk of plaque forming in your blood vessels. Smoking raises the risk of unwanted blood clots and makes it more likely that platelets will stick together. Smoking also damages the lining of the blood vessels, which can cause clots to form. Untreated high blood pressure and Atrial fibrillation (Afib) increases your risk, too. For more information, please contact your primary care provider or the Forest County Health Department at 715-478-3371. Remember, a stroke is a time-sensitive emergency!

For Old Time's Sake

The Colburn family in Hiles had their roots in Wabeno. This 1915 photo came from the Ned Colburn collection. The little guy on the far right with the X by his leg is Ned. It was obvious from the inscription on the back of the photo that he was trying to identify people in the picture.

From his memory, he thought that the youngster driving the bobsled was named "Nitche" and that his father was John. Tom Wildcat is also in the photo, but which one?

For Old Time's Sake

Were you a 6th grader at Crandon Elementary in 1960-61? Was Mary Colburn your teacher? If so, you are probably in this photo!

ke News: What it is and How to Spot It

Submitted by Kathy O'Melia

"Fake news" isn't exactly new, but we've heard the term a lot lately. In general, "fake news" refers to news stories that do not have accurate facts, sources, or quotes. Sometimes these stories are intentionally designed to mislead readers. Other times, these stories are written as humor or satire. Often, these stories are meant to be "clickbait." That is, their purpose is to attract attention and encourage readers to click on a link because the writer will earn more money if more people look at a story.

Recently, there has been concern about "fake news" and the amount of misinformation on social media websites, like Facebook and Twitter. A study published in January 2019 looked at the social media posts of a group of 1,300 Facebook users in 2016. (You can read the full study here: http://advances.sciencemag.org/content/5/1 /eaau4586). Overall, over 90 percent of the group did not share any articles from websites that are considered fake news publishers. However, researchers found that some age groups were more likely to share "fake news" articles to their Facebook friends. This was true regardless of education level or political beliefs.

It's not clear why some Facebook users are more likely to share "fake news" online. However, it's important for people of all ages to think carefully before sharing misinformation on the internet. Facebook has provided some tips to help users spot "fake news":

1. Be skeptical of headlines. False news stories often have catchy headlines in all caps with exclamation points. If shocking claims in the headline sound unbelievable, they probably are.

2. Look closely at the link. A phony or look-alike link may be a warning sign of false news. Many false news sites mimic authentic news sources by making small changes to the link. You can go to the site to compare the link to established sources.

3. Investigate the source. Ensure that the story is written by a source that you trust with a reputation for accuracy. If the story comes from an unfamiliar organization, check its "About" section to learn more.

4. Watch for unusual formatting. Many false news sites have misspellings or awkward layouts. Read carefully if you see these signs.

5. Consider the photos. False news stories often contain manipulated images or videos. Sometimes the photo may be authentic but taken out of context. You can search for the photo or image to verify where it came from.

6. Inspect the dates. False news stories may contain timelines that make no sense, or event dates that have been altered.

- 7. Check the evidence. Check the author's sources to confirm that they are accurate. Lack of evidence or reliance on unnamed experts may indicate a false news story.
- 8. Look at other reports. If no other news source is reporting the same story, it may indicate that the story is false. If the story is reported by multiple sources you trust, it's more likely to be true.
- 9. Is the story a joke? Sometimes false news stories can be hard to distinguish from humor or satire. Check whether the source is known for parody, and whether the story's details and tone suggest it may be just for fun.
- 10. Some stories are intentionally false. Think critically about the stories you read, and only share news that you know to be credible.

Older Americans Month 2019: Connect, Create, Contribute

Each year, more and more older adults are making a positive impact in and around Forest County. As volunteers, employees, employers, educators, mentors, advocates, and more, they offer insight and experience that benefit the entire community. That's why Older Americans Month (OAM) has been recognizing the contributions of this growing population for 56 years. Led by the Administration for Community Living<https://acl.gov/> (ACL) each May, OAM provides resources to help older Americans stay healthy and independent, and resources to help communities support and celebrate their diversity.

This year's OAM theme, Connect, Create, Contribute, encourages older adults and their communities to:

- * Connect with friends, family, and local services and
- * Create through activities that promote learning, health, and personal enrichment.
- * Contribute time, talent, and life experience to benefit

Communities that support and recognize older adults are stronger. By engaging and supporting all community members, we recognize that older adults play a key role in the vitality of our community. We encourage everyone to connect, create, and contribute for a stronger community this May and throughout the year.

Forest County Office on Aging is here to connect older adults to resources and services available in our community. Please contact Office on Aging to learn more about these resources at (715) 478-3256, or by stopping by the office, or visiting our website https://fcaging.com or find us on Facebook at Forest County Commission on Aging. The Office on Aging is located in the Forest County Courthouse lower level.

The Groom Room is a full service grooming salon for large and small dogs. Cindy offers haircuts, baths, desheds and nail trims by appointment. To make an appointment, call 715-850-3375.

The Lakewood Laundry, located in the same location as The Groom Room, but with separate access doors, is newly remodeled and all the washing machines are brand new. The dryers are all refurbished and in mint condition. Cindy has never owned a laundromat, but says that she has plenty of expertise using the machines from her business in South Dakota. Cindy believes that a clean, modern facility is key and her goal is to work hard and make it the very best experience for her customers. The laundry features a coin machine, a soap machine, and machine that can handle 40 lbs. There are 8 dryers in the facility. The operating hours for Lakewood Laundry is 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. The facility has surveillance and is well lit. There is an automatic locking system on the door set to the hours of operation.

Cindy also offers a "Fold & Fluff" service so if you have weekly wash or cottage bedding that needs to be done, do not hesitate to call Cindy at 715-850-3375 for more information.
