Lumberjack Steam Train begins 50th season Lumberjack Show Saturday, June 29

This is a special time for the Lumberjack Steam Train. This year marks the 50th Anniversary of the operation of the 1916 Vulcan steam engine carrying visitors to the Camp 5 Museum Complex. It is also the 103rd year that the Vulcan engine has earned its keep, starting with hauling logs, lumber and lumberjacks and now providing rides in vintage rail cars to Camp 5.

Passengers on the Lumberjack Steam Train embark at the vintage depot on Hwy 8, on Laona's west side. The train runs Tuesday through Saturday, leaving the depot at 10 a.m., with a train leaving on the hour with the last trip to Camp 5 at 1 p.m. Camp 5 is open until 3 p.m. with the last train returning to the depot at that time.

The Lumberjack Show on Saturday, June 29

The Timberworks Lumberjack Show will be performing at the Camp 5 Museum complex on Saturday, June 29th. You can enjoy watching modern day lumberjacks performing the skills that the early lumberjacks did in their daily work in the logging of days gone by. There will be contests in axe throwing, chopping, log rolling, crosscut sawing, hot sawing, and a modern skill-chainsaw carving.

We have noticed that kids and grownups alike enjoy the petting zoo, feeding and petting a variety of farm animals who enjoy the attention as much as the visitors. The early days of logging in the Northwoods are displayed in the Logging Museum. A trip through the museum with the displays of photos and tools give the viewer a sense of the history of the time and where the lumber to build a nation came from. A working blacksmith shop is a big attraction in the Logging Museum. Modern sustained yield logging is explained on the Green Treasure Forest Tour, with a trolley ride through a beautiful hardwood forest. The Cracker Barrel Gift Shop provides a shopping experience, and don't forget to sample the delicious ice cream! Lunch or a snack is available at the Choo Choo Hut Restaurant on the grounds. And, don't forget to visit the Nature Center and learn more about the ecology of the northern landscape.

Land Conservation Department Receives Grant for Citizen's Based Water Quality Monitoring

Conservation Corner is a weekly article produced by the Forest County Land Conservation-Land Information Department. For more information, contact Al Murray, County Conservationist-Land Information/GIS Director, at 715-478-1387 or by e-mail at lcc@co.forest.wi.us.

Hello readers. The department spent a good number of hours this spring completing grant applications in an attempt to increase our capabilities and improve services to the people of Forest County. Up until now, Forest County has never received funding under the Wisconsin DNR Citizen Based Monitoring Program. Today we bring you good news that we were successful in a grant application to establish the Forest County Citizen Lake Monitoring Coalition.

This project will provide funding to form a county coalition of CBM Water Quality data collectors to centralize training, standardize collection of data, create centralized database, review results and plan future collections as countywide effort. Initial goal will be to establish baseline data, establish potential human causes of water quality degradation and/or establish natural causes by use of data collection in undeveloped areas. The ultimate goal will be to utilize water quality data to identify issues and prioritize conservation activities, as a coalition, to obtain maximum benefits of conservation investments. This project is expected to extend beyond the grant dates and may evolve to include additional monitoring efforts.

The Forest County Citizen Lake Monitoring Coalition will represent Forest County, which is in Northeastern Wisconsin. Forest County has historically been under represented as evidenced by the fact that no CBM projects have ever been funded and no current groups exist within Forest County. Forest County is one of the sparsest population counties in Wisconsin with a small percentage of taxable lands. This sparse population and small tax base presents challenges in training, maintaining and funding environmental monitoring across a large area.

The Forest County Citizens Lake Monitoring Coalition will capitalize on individuals who have active interests and expand upon their personal interest to spread interest, provide training to additional people and increase monitoring work completed. Forest County has a total of 824 named lakes but has only 16 organizations representing lake property owners. Only 31 lakes within Forest County have monitoring data currently available in the State voluntary reporting system.

Blackwell Job Corps Center to remain open

Trump administration withdraws plan to close the successful Northwoods job training program that has served Forest County since 1964.

WASHINGTON, D.C. – After U.S. Senator Tammy Baldwin fought the Trump administration's plan to close the Blackwell Job Corps Center in Forest County, the Civilian Conservation Centers (CCC) in Laona will stay open. The Blackwell Job Corps Center has supported Wisconsin's Northwoods economy with good paying jobs and job training for disadvantaged youth since 1964.

Last week, Senator Baldwin expressed strong opposition to U.S. Department of Labor Secretary Alexander Acosta and U.S. Department of Agriculture Secretary Sonny Perdue about the Administration's decision to close the 25 Civilian Conservation Centers (CCC) within the U.S. Forest Service, including the Blackwell Job Corps Center.

The Trump administration announced that it will withdraw its plans to end the U.S. Forest Service program that trains disadvantaged youth, which would have closed Blackwell.

"The Blackwell Job Corps Center is so important to our Northwoods community by providing good paying jobs for 55 workers, job training to young adults, and $5.2 million in local economic investment. Since 1964, this civilian conservation center has helped expand economic opportunities in rural Wisconsin and supported the U.S. Forest Service's mission of maintaining the long-term health of Wisconsin's forests," said Senator Baldwin. "I fought the Trump administration's plan to close Blackwell and now the 55 workers there will continue serving Forest County and our youth with much needed job training. I am proud to have worked to win this fight for our Northwoods."

Earlier this month, Senator Baldwin joined Democrats and Republicans in both the Senate and House of Representatives in calling on Labor Secretary Acosta and USDA Secretary Perdue to reconsider the decision to permanently close over a third of Civilian Conservation Centers nationwide and end the program in its current form.

Senator Baldwin also teamed up with a bipartisan group of Senators to introduce the Job Corps Protection Act that would have blocked the administration from using federal government funds in 2019 or 2020 to close any Job Corps Civilian Conservation Centers in the United States. The bill would prohibit any federal government agency from making changes to agreements that operate Job

Northwoods Inn's outdoor theater and musical events this summer

By Mike Monte

Northwoods Inn, at the junction of Hwy 55 and Cty A on Pickerel's south side, has developed a beautiful outdoor venue for live music. There are some very special events scheduled through the summer (see the ad in this issue).

This family restaurant actually started 23 years ago, when Perry and Kelly Siebers took over the ownership of the Northwoods Inn bar and restaurant and added the Shell gas station. They are holding these events to help bring people to Pickerel and to not only benefit their business, but all the area businesses as well. There are two scheduled musical events for this summer and a dinner comedian show. This takes place in the beautifully landscaped outdoor grounds. The outdoor area was added on 11 years ago. Very inviting!

Ruffed grouse surveys up

MADISON - Roadside ruffed grouse surveys completed this spring show statewide drumming activity increased 41% between 2018 and 2019. This increase aligns with the generally predictable grouse population cycle. The large increase in 2019 has made up for much of the unanticipated decline seen in 2018 drumming surveys and appears to put Wisconsin back on track for approaching the next cyclical high in the ruffed grouse population. For complete survey results, visit dnr.wi.gov and search keywords "reports." Continued on page 05

Impact of earned income while collecting Social Security retirement benefits before full retirement age

Submitted by Kathy O'Melia

Many people work after they claim early Social Security retirement benefits (SSRB). Yet, if you earn additional income and have not reached your full retirement age (FRA), it may reduce the amount of your benefit amount until you reach your FRA.

Your FRA varies based on the year you were born. For example, if you were born in 1950, your FRA was age 66; whereas, if you were born in 1967, your FRA will be at age 67. The Social Security Administration (SSA) created a website that tells you your FRA based on your date of birth. This website is <https://www.ssa.gov/planners/retire/ageincrease.html>.

How your earnings impact the amount of your SSRB varies based on when you earn those benefits in relationship to your FRA. The law provides the following three different ways that earning income can impact the amount of your SSRB:

1. Income earned during any year before the calendar year you reach your FRA:

If you are collecting SSRB and earn more than the annual earnings limit, the SSA will reduce your SSRB by $1 for every $2 you earn over the limit. In 2019, the annual earnings limit is $17,640 or $1,470 per month (which is increased for inflation each year). So, in 2019 you can earn up to $17,640 and not reduce your SSRB even if you aren't yet at your FRA.

For the year you start collecting SSRB, the reduction only applies to income earned after you start collecting SSRB and the SSA only applies a monthly earnings limit test rather than a yearly one. So, if you only start collecting SSRB in November of 2019, any money you earned before November does not count and you can earn up to $1,470 each month in November and December and the SSA will not reduce your SSRB.

2. Income earned during the calendar year you reach your full retirement benefit age:

The year you reach your FRA there are different rules. First, a different earning limit applies. In 2019, this limit is $46,920. The earning limits are increased for inflation each year. Second, the SSA will only deduct $1 for every $3 you earn over the annual earnings limit. Finally, this deduction only applies for money earned up to the month before you reach your FRA. So, if you reach your FRA in April, only income earned through March will count toward the $46,920 threshold that impacts your SSRB.

3. Income Earned After You Reach FRA:

Once you reach your FRA, you are no longer subject to the annual earnings limit; you can earn as much as you like without reducing your SSRB!

What Counts as Income?

For the Social Security early retirement income limit, the SSA considers any of the following as earned income: wages, paid time off, commissions, bonuses and royalties; if you receive a place to live or a discount on rent in exchange for work; and if you're self-employed, the SSA counts only your net earnings from self-employment.

In contrast, the SSA does not consider any of the following as earned income: money derived from investments such as pensions, annuities or retirement accounts; federal income tax returns; unemployment benefits; and other government benefits.

The example below, taken from a Social Security pamphlet on this topic, highlights how this would impact you:

Let's say that you file for Social Security benefits at age 62 in January 2019 and your payment will be $600 per month ($7,200 for the year). During 2019, you plan to work and earn $22,600 ($4,960 above the $17,640 limit). The SSA would withhold $2,480 of your Social Security benefits ($1 for every $2 you earn over the limit). To do this, the SSA would withhold all benefit payments from January 2019 through May 2019. As of May, only $80 remains to be taken out of your SSRB check to pay the entire $2,480. However, the rule is that any month that you still have an unpaid balance the SSA will take your entire SSRB check and then pay the extra amount the SSA took in the following year. Beginning in June 2019, you would receive your $600 benefit and the SSA would pay this amount each month for the remainder of the year. In 2020, the SSA would pay you the additional $520 the SSA withheld in May of 2019.

"Grouse are an important resource to Wisconsin's outdoor enthusiasts and economy," said Mark Witecha, Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources upland wildlife ecologist. "As we enter the brood rearing season, weather conditions over the coming weeks will be critical in determining what grouse enthusiasts see in the grouse woods this fall, but increased drumming activity is a good sign that there were more breeding grouse on the landscape this year."

Summer ruffed grouse surveys in spring 2019 showed statewide drumming activity increased 41 percent over 2018.

Roadside surveys to monitor the number of breeding grouse have been conducted by staff from the department, U.S. Forest Service, tribal employees and numerous grouse enthusiasts and volunteers since 1964.

The survey results showed a 41% increase statewide over 2018 levels. The central part of the state showed an increase of 35% in drumming activity, and the northern forest showed an increase of 48% in drumming activity. These two areas comprise the primary grouse range in Wisconsin. Decreases in drumming activity detected by the roadside survey occurred in the southwest part of the state (-17%) as well as the southeast (-50%), but these areas are not within the primary range for grouse. The drumming activity in southwestern and southeastern Wisconsin are at or near historic lows and likely would not significantly add to grouse abundance in the state.

"Ruffed grouse rely on dense, young forest cover resulting from disturbances such as fire and logging," said Witecha. "Beyond actively managing state-owned lands, Wisconsin DNR is working to provide suitable grouse habitat through collaborative efforts such as the Wisconsin Young Forest Partnership [exit DNR] and jointly-funded Forest Wildlife Specialist positions with Ruffed Grouse Society and USDA-Natural Resources Conservation Service. These partnerships provide technical and financial assistance for delivering young forest management on private lands, benefitting ruffed grouse and other wildlife species by helping maintain healthy and diverse forest communities."

The department is currently working with partners to develop a ruffed grouse management plan. The draft plan will be released for public review later this summer, with associated public meetings to be held during the public comment period.

Popular local musician Anthony Lux at Concert on the Riverwalk

Things will be hoppin' down by the river in downtown Rhineland on Wednesday, June 26, with Anthony Lux at the bandshell near Trig's starting at 7 pm. Popular with audiences all over this part of the state, this is a rare opportunity to hear him for free under the night sky.

Lux plays keyboard in a lively style some claim reminiscent of Jerry Lee Lewis. Free popcorn will be served and some benches are available. Bring your lawn chairs and get ready for a toe-tapping good time.... even dancing is encouraged.

In case of bad weather, the performance will be held at the senior center (ADRC) across the parking lot, where chairs will be set up inside.

Increase in measles cases leads to Community Tabletop Exercise

(Rhinelander, WI)- According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, more than one-thousand cases of measles have been confirmed in 28 states from January 1 through Mid-June.

This represents the greatest number of cases reported in the United States since 1992 and since measles was declared eliminated in 2000.

As the result of this increase, a multi-jurisdictional group of community health and other organizations gathered on Friday, June 21 at Ascension St. Mary's Hospital in Rhinelander for a tabletop exercise on measles.

24 representatives from 14 area agencies participated in the discussion which focused on three possible scenarios where suspected cases of measles could impact the community.

"Preparation to respond to any event no matter the size or scope starts with talking about it," said Jim

Monarski, safety officer for Ascension Wisconsin's facilities in the Northwoods. "This tabletop exercise led to some valuable collaborative discussion from participants."

From a simulated suspected measles case at a summer camp to potential patients accessing health care facilities at an emergency department or clinic, the three-phased tabletop exercise focused on initial response and things to consider for each organization when it comes to measles.

"I think everyone who participated was able to identify some strengths as well as things to work on for their organization when it comes to measles and that is what we hope to accomplish by holding these tabletop exercises," added Monarski.

The event concluded with Monarski demonstrating an Isopod (isolation transport unit) which would be used by EMS agencies to transport a person suspected of having measles that needed medical transport to another location.

Letters to the Editor

We welcome letter to the Editor; however the letters should be legible, in good taste, not libelous and pertinent to current issues. We reserve the right to reject any and all letters.

To the Editor:

Our County Forester is not only tasked with management of our county forest, but is also a business manager for the park on Metonga. A person with a degree in forestry and or a related field AND, with management experience of staff, business, AND, with excellent communication skills is what we need.

It is in the best interest of the county to reassess the job description of the forest administrator and to update it to our needs.

The Forest committee is the supervisor of the staff and is responsible for the investment of our forest both monetary and environmentally.

I am in full agreement with the letters from Mr. Krueger and Mr. Mueller on the facts and ideas that a path going forward should include a good look at the past misdealings of a minority of the county board. And that going forward the elected county supervisors should listen to his or hers constituents, put all the pettiness behind, and do what is best for the county.

In my district everyone I have talked with, feel we have lost a good man and, that could have passed his experience and knowledge on to a predecessor. Think of all the federal, state, ATV, snowmobile, and other connections lost.

Please call your county supervisor or email and have a heart to heart discussion. Our forest is our most valuable asset and resource!

Steve Bunda, Supervisor Dist 16 Town of Lincoln

Sign-up for October deer hunt for disabled hunters

MADISON - Eligible disabled hunters hoping to participate in the 2019 gun deer hunt for hunters with disabilities must contact a hunt sponsor to sign up before Sept. 1.

As of the June 1 sponsor application deadline, 62 sponsors have enrolled over 73,000 acres of land across 41 counties for this year's hunt, which takes place from Oct. 5-13. For a complete list of 2019 sponsors, please visit dnr.wi.gov and search keywords "disabled deer hunt."

"We are very grateful to the sponsors that are willing to provide opportunities for hunters with special challenges in the field," says Matthew Gross, DNR assistant big game ecologist. "Giving hunters access to over 73,000 acres of land is instrumental in making this unique opportunity a success and continuing Wisconsin's deer hunting tradition."

Eligible hunters may sign up for one property per year and must possess a gun deer license.

Hunters or assistants must contact sponsors directly to sign up for a hunt. Hunters must provide their name, contact information, and DNR customer ID number. To be eligible, hunters must possess a valid Class A, C or D disabled permit or Class B permit that is issued for longer than one year, authorizing shooting from a stationary vehicle.

It is important for hunters to note that some properties can accommodate more hunters than others, so hunters are advised to contact potential sponsors as early as possible to determine if space is available.

For more information, interested hunters are encouraged to contact Gross by phone at 608-261-7588 or email at Matthew.Gross@wisconsin.gov.

Initially the project will establish a meeting of all active lake monitoring citizens to create a coalition of interested people. Once that coalition is established, a process will be created to bring training to a central location to increase capabilities of active citizens, establish training for additional interested people and involve schools and youth in the process. The coalition will establish standards for testing to include at a minimum testing of ice on/ice off, water clarity, and water chemistry (including total phosphorus), at a county level to provide for comparison categories between lakes and allow for tracking of changes over time. Ultimately the program will increase to include a larger number of lakes with the goal of baseline data for all developed lakes in Forest County in the long term and creation of a 10 year rotational collection of data to create follow-up potential and tracking over time. The program will also provide a forum for data to be collected and utilized at a countywide level and also insure inclusion of data into the CBM statewide SWIMS system by County staffing.

Please look forward to future articles related to the Forest County Citizen Based Water Quality Coalition, or first organized meeting will be scheduled prior to October 1, 2019. To those interested in participating in the project, please contact our office.

Bring your lawn chairs and enjoy the music!

Building this amazing outdoor theater was an enormous amount of work. Besides the stage, there is a waterfall to add atmosphere that is visible in the picture above just over the shoulders of the Siebers family. Show above by the stage, from left to right, is Jenna, Makayla, Kelly and Perry Siebers.

You may want to find your folding lawn chairs in the shed and get in on these high-quality musical events in Pickerel. The first of these events will be held on Wednesday, July 3rd when a tribute to Lynyrd Skynyrd will be performed by "Gimme Skynyrd." This is their largest event with 4 superheroes and amazing fireworks. Wristbands are needed.

We congratulate the Siebers family on their enormous effort to build and maintain this outdoor theater and wish them well in their endeavors. You can learn more by visiting their website northwoodsinnpickerel.com or on Facebook Northwoods Inn.

Everyone enjoys their visit when the Cowboys are at Camp 5. You can count on these galoots robbing every run of the Lumberjack Steam Train! You don't have to hide your money though. They never rob the passengers. But, you will enjoy the beautiful horses, vintage guns and period costumes that depict all walks of life from over a century ago. The Cowboys will visit on July 20th, so mark the calendar.

The Lumberjack Steam Train will operate through August 17th and be open again on Saturday, August 24th. The Fall Festival will be on September 21 and 28, and again on October 5th, when the Cowboys once again visit the Lumberjack Steam Train.

"We meet the nicest people by accident"

Erica Neilitz receives Certificate of Recognition

School Nurse Erica Neilitz BSN, RN and the School District of Crandon receive Certificate of Recognition from the Northwoods Tobacco Free Coalition (NWTFC) for contributions to local youth tobacco prevention initiatives, specifically the e-cigarette epidemic.

All Wisconsin children deserve tobacco-free schools. A comprehensive approach to tobacco-free schools is essential to preventing youth nicotine initiation and supporting youth nicotine cessation. Youth cigarette use in Wisconsin continues to decline, however e-cigarette use continues to increase among Wisconsin youth (2014 - 7.9% vs 2018 - 20.1%).

Mrs. Neilitz and the School District of Crandon recognize the importance of prevention at an early age and focus on a well rounded approach that utilizes various events throughout the school year to enhance students understanding of the dangers associated with tobacco and e-cigarette use, including the Great American Smoke Out and Kick Butts Day.
