Wabeno Area Players announce finalists for the Huisman Honors Recital

The Wabeno Area Players have announced the finalists for the Huisman Honors Recital, who will perform on Saturday, May 20, 2023, at 7 p.m. at the Nancy Volk Auditorium in Wabeno. A panel of judges heard recorded auditions from students from around the state, then narrowed down the field to 12 finalists. At the recital, awards will be given to all the qualifiers, with at least 3 performers receiving a cash award ranging between $500 and $2,000.

The Honors Recital is an annual event which began in 2019, with only students from schools in the Northern Lakes Conference invited. It has expanded, and is now open to musicians in northern Wisconsin and parts of Upper Michigan who have performed a Class A accompanied solo for the current WSMA Solo and Ensemble Season. Recital Co-Chair, Mary Ellen Keller notes, "It has been amazing to see and hear the beautiful music being created by our state's youth. We know that they could not do this without the help and support of their teachers. This event is also a celebration of their dedication to musical excellence."

This year's recital participants are:

Christiana Braun, oboe - Sturgeon Bay High School

Cora Carriere, flute – Gibraltar High School

Charlotte Cipra, voice – Coleman High School

Ana Feliz, clarinet – Oconto Falls High School Nathan Lemmens, alto saxophone – Denmark High School

Mitsuki Nelson, alto saxophone – Wabeno High School

Logan Preul, musical theatre - Antigo High School

Felicity Richmond, flute – Omro High School Cole Shepherd, trumpet – Crandon High School Aria Slade, clarinet – Oconto Falls High School Ashlynn Vanderheyden, flute – Oconto Falls High School

The Huisman Award is named in memory of longtime educator and arts supporter, Richard Huisman. Richard was a teacher, principal, and superintendent for the School District of Wabeno Area. As an educator, Mr. Huisman believed that young people should have the opportunity for a well-rounded education, including technology, athletics, and the arts. The scholarship is funded by the Huisman family and Wabeno Area Players.

The Wabeno Area Players is a volunteer community theatre organization in the Northwoods. They have hosted theatrical events, fine arts series, and educational opportunities for students for 41 years. Information about the WAP season and events is available at www.wabenoareplayers.org. Tickets can be found through the link at the website, or directly at ShowTix4U.com by searching "WABENO AREA PLAYERS" where it asks for the organization. Tickets are also sold 1 hour prior to the recital. Adult tickets are $10; student tickets are $5.

Mecikalski Stovewood Museum opens for the summer!

An area historic treasure, the Mecikalski Stovewood Museum, opens for the season on Saturday May 27. The Museum and visitor center will be open on Saturdays and Sundays through Labor Day from 1 to 4 p.m. The Museum will also be open on July 4th. Additional tours can be arranged upon request. Admission is free although donations are welcomed.

Built in 1899, the national site was built with the unusual method of folk architecture using 18 inch lengths of cedar logs laid in a bed of wet lime mortar. The style is often referred to as stovewood or cordwood construction. This is the largest building constructed during this era and has a history of multiple commercial and personal uses.

Turn-of-the-century exhibits associated with the building's history include a general store, saloon, farmers co-op, cheese factory, and blacksmith shop.

The Stovewood Museum is located in the crossroads community of Jennings. To get there take Hwy 45 to Pelican Lake then Cty B east 5 miles to Jennings. From Crandon take Hwy 55 south to Cty B west to Jennings.

In the early 1900's, the Mecikalski store supplied the basic needs of the surrounding community, with perhaps a few frills. It was also likely one of the gathering places for people to visit, gossip, and make a deal or two on livestock, extra hay or other necessities of life.

Understanding how your sanitary system works

A sanitary system (septic system) works as your own personal mini-treatment plant. In fact, the acronym POWTS stands for Private Onsite Wastewater Treatment System. If you have access to municipal water and sewer, you don't always think of where everything goes when you flush your toilet or empty the dirty dishwater out of the sink. When you have your own "mini-treatment plant" or septic system this is something you should think about.

Plant Pickup will be on Friday, June 2, by the Tank in the Courthouse Square 8:00 – 4:00p.m.

Northern Wisconsin is home to a diverse array of native plant species that are well adapted to the region's climate and soil conditions. These plants provide important ecological and economic benefits, including support for local wildlife, improved soil health, and increased crop yields. Some of these native plant species found in northern Wisconsin and their benefits are listed below.

Black-eyed Susan (Rudbeckia hirta) - The Black-eyed Susan is a hardy perennial plant that can grow up to three feet tall. It is known for its striking yellow and black blooms, which attract bees, butterflies, and other pollinators. Black-eyed Susan is also drought-resistant, making it a great choice for northern Wisconsin's dry summers.

Wild Bergamot (Monarda fistulosa) - Wild Bergamot, also known as Bee Balm, is a beautiful flowering plant that is native to northern Wisconsin. It produces fragrant pink or lavender blooms that attract bees, butterflies, and hummingbirds. Wild Bergamot is also used for its medicinal properties, as it has antiseptic and antiinflammatory properties. Continued on page 03 May 9 at 4 p.m.

See us online at: pioneerexpresscrandon.com Let's talk about how your system works. There are two main parts to the basic septic system. There is a tank and a drainfield.

All of the household water flows into the septic tank where it stays for an amount of time. During this time the solids settle to the bottom forming a sludge layer. The grease and some light solids float to the top and form a scum layer. The sludge and scum remain in the tank where bacteria work to break them down. However, the bacteria cannot break all of it down and this is why your tank needs to be pumped regularly.

The wastewater in the middle layer is pushed out into the drainfield. Soil and naturally occurring microscopic organisms filter out and remove bacteria. Nutrients are absorbed by soil particles or taken up by plants. If the soils are saturated the breakdown of the nutrients will not be complete. Nutrients will not receive

Baldwin calls to sell E15 Fuel, support Wisconsin Agriculture E15 and biofuels reduce the price at the pump and support Wisconsin's farmers, producers, and rural communities

U.S. Senator Tammy Baldwin is applauding the Biden administration for heeding her calls and announcing that they will expand the sale of E15 fuel to be sold during the summer months. In March, Senator Baldwin and a group of Democratic and Republican colleagues called on the Biden administration to permit the year-round sale of E15 fuel in 2023. Senator Baldwin also joined a bipartisan group of colleagues in introducing legislation to allow the year-round, nationwide sale of ethanol blends higher than 10%. Senator Baldwin has long advocated for more permanent biofuel regulations to help lower fuel prices, support farmers and producers, and provide the needed certainty in fuel markets.

"American biofuels are a homegrown energy solution that support Wisconsin's farmers and producers, help drive down the price at the pump, and reduce our dependence on foreign oil," said Senator Baldwin. "I applaud the Biden administration's action to ensure cleaner E15 fuel is available this summer, supporting jobs in rural communities and moving our Made in Wisconsin economy forward."

Today, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency issued an emergency fuel waiver to allow E15 gasoline to be sold during the summer driving season.

National Forest campgrounds opening

Some campgrounds in the Chequamegon-Nicolet National Forest (CNNF) will open today (May 4, 2023), while others will remain closed due to weather-related safety concerns caused by lingering snowpack and high water in areas.

The following campgrounds were scheduled to open May 4, 2023: Ada Lake; Bagley Rapids; Bear Lake; Boot Lake; Boulder Lake; Eastwood; Kentuck Lake, sites 1-14; Laura Lake; Laurel Lake; Pine Lake; Richardson Lake.

Other CNNF campgrounds will open on a rolling basis as they are ready. Sites will be available on a firstcome, first served basis. All sites are expected to be open by May 19, 2023. Reservations can be made for May 19th, 2023 and later dates through the website www.Recreation.gov.

Boat launches are being opened as quickly as possible. The situation changes daily; USDA Forest Service officials urge recreationists to call district offices to inquire about the status of a boat launch.

"Specialists are at campsites every day prepping the campgrounds for the season," said USDA FS Recreation Program Manager Karen Katz. "The situation changes daily. A phone call to the local district office is the best way to find out which campsites are open and if amenities, such as wells, are fully functional at that site. I am thankful that successful monitoring and assessments this week allowed for several campgrounds to be opened in popular native plant that is found throughout northern Wisconsin. It produces beautiful pink or purple blooms that attract bees, butterflies, and other pollinators. Purple Coneflower is also used for its medicinal properties, as it is believed to help boost the immune system and alleviate cold and flu symptoms.

Native plants play an important role in northern Wisconsin's ecosystems, providing valuable habitat for wildlife, improving soil health, and contributing to the region's economic prosperity. By planting native species in our gardens and landscapes, we can help to support these important plants and the benefits they provide. Some other native plant species that are well suited for northern Wisconsin include Wild Columbine (Aquilegia canadensis), Wild Geranium (Geranium maculatum), and Wild Blue Phlox (Phlox divaricata).

Tick Season is here

Ticks are smaller than you think but they can pack a big bite. They're dormant in the winter and emerge when the snow disappears which means they're ready to catch a ride on their next human or animal.

Ashley Johnson is a Nurse Practitioner at the Aspirus Tick-Borne Illness Center in Woodruff where they provide advanced care to diagnose, control and treat tickborne illnesses. She says there are three main types of ticks in our region, Deer Ticks, Wood Ticks and the Lone Star Tick.

"The Deer Tick is responsible for transmitting Lyme Disease," said Johnson. "It is a smaller tick and has a burnt red body. The Wood Tick is larger and responsible for transmitting Ehrlichiosis as well as Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever. The Lone Star Tick is not very common and it is responsible for transmitting Ehrlichiosis and alpha-gal syndrome."

In order to prevent tick bites, you want to prevent them from getting onto your skin. Some tips include:

Tuck your pants into your socks

·Wear tall boots if you're going out into the woods

•Use bug sprays with at least a 30 percent Deet concentration

· Perform daily tick checks anytime you're done spending time outside

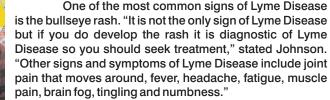

•Throw your clothes in the dryer for 20 minutes on high heat which will kill any ticks that are potentially on your clothes

• Treat your pets, especially dogs that sleep in the beds, as they're a high risk for bringing ticks into the home

Removing a tick can be challenging and there are several options to extract them. Tweezers are effective and it's important that you don't squeeze the body of the tick. Place the tweezers at the head of the tick perpendicular to its body and pull straight up until it releases from the skin. Tick removal tools like the tick twister and the tick key can help to remove a tick without squeezing the body or irritating the tick.

we send our appreciation to everyone who shared in this event. We had 176 visitors in the building to celebrate. A big thank you to our organizers, kitchen staff, volunteers and tour guides.

May is National Lyme Disease Awareness Month and aims to spread awareness of how to prevent Lyme and tick-borne diseases. Anyone looking for more information on tick-borne illness care or services to treat tick-borne illnesses can visit the Aspirus website.

Heaven gained a very special man when Melvin Whisman passed away on May 7, 2023. Mel was a very humble man from simple beginnings in the Town of Lily, Wisconsin.

He was born March 13, 1934 to Jessie and Dillard Whisman. He attended the Lily School until 8th grade. Then he finished high school in White Lake. It was his first year that they began busing and he was able to get his diploma without having to stay with someone in another town like his brothers and sisters.

After high school Mel entered the Army and spent two years in the service in Alaska. He then was a member of the Army Active Reserve for 24 years leaving as a Master Sergeant. Mel was very proud of his years in the Army and was a very patriotic man. The world was just a little safer for having him among their ranks.

After leaving the active service and during his years in the reserve, Mel worked in Milwaukee for American Motors (now part of the Chrysler Corporation). He worked there until retirement when he returned to his hometown of Lily.

Mel was very active in his community as he served as Fire Chief for many years before retiring from the department. He was a founding member of the Lily Snow-Birds and fundamental in the building of their clubhouse and spent many hours grooming trails.

Mel loved golfing with his buddies and nephews when possible. He especially enjoyed traveling. He was often known to pack a little bag and go for a ride and end up in Canada or Minnesota or just about anywhere. He just loved to drive and look around at the country. He enjoyed skiing when younger, a skill he developed while stationed in Alaska. He made trips to places like the Grand Tetons and such. Mel especially loved his morning coffee clutches with his gang at the Northwoods Diner in Pickerel. He greatly appreciated the hospitality and friendship of the owners Kelly and Perry Siebers and their lovely family.

Mel was a very much loved and special uncle to many nieces and nephews. We cannot express how much this man meant to our families. Holidays weren't complete until Mel showed up. He walked nieces down the aisle and was a substitute father to some. He was an extraordinary son, who not only sent his military pay home to help his mother, but also came home every weekend to check on her and care for her until her move to a nursing home. If only everyone could have a son who loved like this. It cannot be put into words how much he was loved. That is why his family made it possible for him to stay in his own home until just a week before his passing.

Mel is survived by nieces, Vicki (Jim) Lemerande, Chris (Mike) Geske, Penny (Jack) Carter and Donna (John) Pospichal, nephews, Joe Breaker, Paul Breaker Eugene Breaker, Mike Raminger, Jim Raminger, Jim (Jeanne) Whisman; and many grand-nieces and nephews.

He is preceded in death by his parents; sisters, Gladys Raminger and Audrey Breaker Ratty; brothers, Fran Whisman, Clarence Whisman and Lonnie Whisman; nephews, Don Whisman and Edward Breaker; and nieces, Evelyn Galleazzi, Marva Shaw and Nancy Wells.

The family would like to than The Bay at NuRoc for their kind and compassionate care, Dr. McKenna of the Langlade Aspirus and Weber-Hill & Packard Funeral Home for all of their help. Everything is greatly appreciated.

Visitation will be held at Weber-Hill & Packard Funeral Home in Crandon on Tuesday, May 16, 2023 from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. Services will follow at 12 p.m. with Pastor Don Dewing presiding. Interment will be at Town of Lily Cemetery, Langlade County, where Military Honors will be conducted.

It is with heavy hearts that we announce the sudden passing of Linda Kaye (Gretzinger) Cline, age 59, of Argonne, WI. Linda left this world peacefully in the comfort of her own home on Sunday, May 7, 2023.

A Christmas angel, Linda was born on December 25, 1963, in Laona, WI to Leroy and Ruby (Wagoner) Gretzinger. She was a 1982 graduate of Crandon High School and was active in athletics, band, and other co-curricular activities.

Following graduation, Linda immediately entered the workforce. She held careers in waitressing, bookkeeping for Colonel Rene Brass & St. Louis Auctions, agent at AmeriTitle & Abstract, and was currently employed as an insurance agent at Northwoods Insurance.

Linda married Jim Bradlev in 1986. They had two children, Jimmie and Jenna. In 1993, Linda married the love of her life, Jamie Cline, and together they had two more wonderful children, Jesse and Julia. Linda loved living in Argonne and especially enjoyed being with her family, they were her world and always her top priority. It wouldn't matter which of them you asked, they'd all let you know she was constantly in contact and always planning the next get-together. When she wasn't reaching out in a text or a phone call to show how much she loved you, she was taking you out for ice cream, meeting you at the lake to play, or finding some way to always make you feel special!

Jamie and Linda always enjoyed their time together, whether it was completing home improvement projects, planting their garden, or vacationing. Some of their favorite memories were visiting Tennessee, the U.P., or simply taking afternoons to enjoy their kayaks.

Of all her accomplishments, Linda was most proud of being a wife, mother, and grandmother. She will especially be remembered for spoiling her grandchildren with love, affection, toys, and popsicles. Her infectious laugh, hard work ethic, and being the life of the party will surely be missed.

Linda is survived by her husband, Jamie; her children, Jimmie (Erika) Bradley, Jenna (Sean) Aderholdt, Jesse Cline and Julia (Ethan Holm) Cline; her five grandchildren, Trenton, Preston and Ariana Bradley, Kiera and Liam Aderholdt; and her mother, Ruby Gretzinger.

She is further survived by six siblings, Colette (Donnie) Dehart, Susan (friend Don) Deer, Colleen (Jeff) Kincaid, Leroy "Sonny" (Jenny) Gretzinger, Gary (Lisa) Gretzinger, and Richard (Casey) Gretzinger; and sister-inlaw, Jody Retzlaff. Aunt Linda's love was also felt by many nieces and nephews.

Linda was welcomed into heaven by her father, Leroy Gretzinger; and her mother-in-law, Linda Young.

How to Identify Melanoma

The ABCDEs of early melanoma detection Exposure to ultraviolet light, either from the sun or, even more dangerously, from a tanning bed, can cause changes in skins cells that lead to melanoma."

Since 1995, the American Academy of Dermatology has designated the first Monday in May as Melanoma Monday, officially kicking off Skin Cancer Awareness Month.

During this time, people around the world raise awareness of melanoma, one of the deadliest forms of skin cancer, and encourage people to examine their skin for suspicious spots.

Melanoma is a type of skin cancer that occurs when the pigment producing cells in the skin called melanocytes replicates too fast and becomes cancerous.

According to the American Cancer Society, melanoma is one of the most deadly types of skin cancer because it can spread rapidly to other parts of the body. Some types of melanomas can develop and spread within weeks, while others can span over a decade.

Melanoma can occur within a pre-existing mole, but it can also occur on a new area of the skin.

Chronically sun-exposed areas are more likely to develop melanoma, but it can occur on any part of the body.

"Anyone can get melanoma but those with fair or less pigmented skin are at greater risk," says Stephen Lewellis, MD, Aspirus Board Certified Dermatologist. "The most preventable risk factor is chronic and accumulative sun exposure. Exposure to ultraviolet light, either from the sun or, even more dangerously, from a tanning bed, can cause changes in the skin cells that lead to melanoma."

It's important for people to watch for any new moles, rapidly growing moles, or changes in moles or other spots on the skin.

Early detection plays a huge role in reducing the likelihood that melanoma will go to other parts of the body and become life-threatening.

To help protect yourself and your loved ones, keep in mind the ABCDEs of early melanoma detection. A is for Asymmetry. One half of the mole does not match the other half.

B is for Border. The borders or edges of the mole are jagged, blurred, or irregular.

C is for Color. The mole has multiple colors. Grey, black, blue, or white spots amidst an otherwise brown spot are especially concerning.

Aspirus New Grad Apprentice program accepting applications

The Aspirus New Grad Apprentice (NGA) program is a program geared towards new nurses who are seeking a hospital position but may be unsure of where they want to practice.

This unique program offers new graduate nurses the opportunity to work in several different inpatient hospital departments prior to selecting a final position. Throughout the program, nurses experience different patient populations, unit cultures and workflows before committing to a unit.

The NGA program currently offers two versions, classic and critical care.

The classic is one year in length and allows new nurses to experience seven inpatient units, six weeks at a time, both in med/surg and intensive care unit (ICU) stepdown.

The critical care version is six months in length and takes new nurses down one of two paths, cardiac or med/surg. Once the new nurse chooses their path, they will orientate and work on the corresponding ICU stepdown unit, then cycle through both the cardiac and med/surg ICU's and end in the emergency department.

At the conclusion of the full rotation, the nurse will then meet with leaders to discuss what they think is the best-matched unit. If a nurse finds a unit where they would like to stay permanently, the NGA program staff will work with the unit leadership to get the nurse a position there.

Elizabeth Flora, Aspirus NGA Program Manager says, "The goal is to help nurses find what ultimately makes them happy, because when you do what you love, you can provide the best care possible. "

The NGA program allows for individuals to have a dynamic and unique experience on the units by allowing them to orientate and work on their own while still being supported. Along the way, each nurse is provided with support from the float pool and department specific leadership teams and additional programs geared towards new nurses.

Applications are accepted year-round for the NGA program. Nurses must be in their last semester or within six months of graduation from nursing school and obtain a registered nursing license prior to their start date.

Apply now on aspirus.org/careers or email Elizabeth Flora at Elizabeth.flora@aspirus.org for more information

Wash your hands!

Hand hygiene is a simple yet essential practice that can help protect ourselves and each other from spreading germs and getting sick.

World Hand Hygiene Day, recognized annually on May 5, is a time to promote the importance of hand hygiene in preventing the spread of infectious diseases in both health care and non-health care settings.

"In health care settings, hand hygiene is crucial to prevent the transmission of health care-associated infections (HAIs), says Jennifer Olson, Aspirus Infectious Disease Nurse Practitioner.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), HAIs are infections that patients can acquire while receiving medical care in hospitals. clinics. and other health care facilities. These infections can be caused by bacteria, viruses, or fungi, and they can result in serious complications, including sepsis, pneumonia, and urinary tract infections. Olson says, "health care professionals are constantly cleaning their hands throughout the day, as they understand the impact that poor hand hygiene can have on their patients' health as well as their own."

In non-health care settings, hand hygiene is essential to prevent the spread of infectious diseases such as the flu, the common cold and COVID-19. These diseases can be spread through respiratory droplets or by touching surfaces contaminated with the virus, according to the CDC. Regular hand hygiene can reduce the risk of transmission by removing germs from your hands before you touch your face or other surfaces.

The World Health Organization (WHO) recommends that individuals clean their hands with soap and water for at least 20 seconds. It is important to clean all surfaces of the hands, including the palms, backs of the hands, fingers and nails. If there's no soap or water, it's OK to use an alcohol-based hand sanitizer but be sure it contains at least 60 percent alcohol. Sanitizers have limitations though. They won't kill all the germs, and they may not be as effective when hands are visibly dirty. So, when you have the option, choose soap and water.

er. The diameter of a mole is larger than a pencil eraser.

'The biggest thing you can do to prevent melanoma is to protect your skin from the sun," says Dr. Lewellis. "I recommend at least SPF 30, broad spectrum sunscreen. Sunscreen should be applied every two hours, especially after swimming or sweating. People can also wear sun protective clothing and seek shade during certain times of the day when the sun is at its peak, around 10 a.m. to 2 p.m."

Skin cancer is highly treatable when detected early. If you notice any new spots on your skin, any spots that look different from others, or anything that is changing, itching, or bleeding, seek the help of a boardcertified dermatologist.

"Practice proper handwashing often. It's particularly important to wash before and after handling food and before and after caring for someone who is sick or injured." says Olson.

You should also wash up after blowing your nose, coughing or sneezing; using the toilet or changing a diaper; petting or handling an animal/pet, pet food or animal waste; or touching garbage.

By making hand hygiene a priority in our daily lives, we can all do our part to promote a healthier and safer world.

Too much water can cause the wastewater to flow out of the tank before it has had time to separate. It can also cause the saturation of the drainfield. In a typical household most of the water used indoors is used in the bathroom. There are little things that can be done to conserve water there. Avoid letting the water run while washing your hands and brushing your teeth, avoid long showers and if you have a large tub or jacuzzi, you should make sure to drain it slowly as not to cause too much turbulence in your tank.

Other things that you can do to reduce overloading the system is make sure your water softeners are not discharging into your sanitary system and repair any leaking fixtures.

You can do things outside also to help maintain the life of your system. It is a good idea to divert roof drains and any surface water away from your drainfield. Don't plant anything over or near the drainfield except grass. Roots from nearby trees or shrubs may clog and damage the drainfield. Don't allow anyone to drive or operate heavy machinery over any part of the system.

Anything you can easily put in the trash should not be put down any drains or flushed down the toilet. Your system is not designed to be a garbage disposal. Avoid washing food scraps, coffee grounds, grease and cooking oils down the drain.

Do not rinse out paint brushes or allow any other chemicals to go down the drain. You should be mindful of the ingredients in your cleaning supplies.

Do not flush disposable diapers, wipes, dental floss, kitty litter, tampons cigarette butts, paper towels etc. All of

It is very important to maintain your POWTS (private onsite wastewater treatment system). This protects your family, community and the environment. Systems that fail, cause inadequate treated household wastewater to be released into the environment and cause significant health risks and contaminate groundwater and drinking water sources.

The cost of maintaining your system is minimal compared to the cost of repairs and/or replacement of these systems.

Please call our office if you have any further questions regarding how to keep your POWTS working properly.
