Preparing for More Smoky Summers in the Midwest and Northeast

The Midwest and Northeast regions of the United States have experienced an alarming increase in the frequency and intensity of smoky summers, especially this summer. The haze of smoke, often originating from distant wildfires in Canada, has become a recurring phenomenon, posing numerous challenges for the affected communities. It is crucial to adopt a proactive approach towards preparing for these smoky summers.

To effectively prepare for smoky summers, it is essential to comprehend the underlying causes and their consequences. Climate change, along with increased wildfire activity in regions farther afield, has contributed to the elevated levels of smoke in the Midwest and Northeast. These smoke plumes can travel vast distances, leading to reduced air quality, impaired visibility, and negative impacts on respiratory health. By acknowledging these factors, communities can better comprehend the urgency of preparation.

Raising awareness about the risks associated with smoky summers is crucial for empowering individuals and communities to take appropriate action. Local authorities should prioritize public education campaigns, disseminating information on the health effects of smoke exposure, methods for reducing personal exposure, and the availability of resources such as air quality monitoring tools and protective equipment. Engaging with community organizations, schools, and healthcare providers will help ensure that everyone receives the necessary information.

To address the challenges posed by smoky summers, communities should develop robust emergency response plans. These plans should include clear guidelines for evacuations, the establishment of temporary shelters, and communication protocols for disseminating critical information.

Local authorities must collaborate with relevant agencies, such as fire departments, environmental agencies, and health departments, to develop comprehensive and coordinated response strategies. Regular drills and simulations will enable communities to practice and refine their emergency plans.

As smoky summers result in compromised outdoor air quality, it is essential to create cleaner indoor environments. Ensuring that homes, schools, and workplaces have proper air filtration systems is vital. Highefficiency particulate air (HEPA) filters can effectively remove fine particles and smoke from indoor air. Individuals should be encouraged to minimize the use of indoor pollutants such as tobacco smoke, candles, and harsh cleaning chemicals, which can exacerbate respiratory problems during smoky conditions.

Individuals can take proactive steps to protect themselves during smoky summers. Wearing N95 or P100 respirators, which are specifically designed to filter out fine particles, can significantly reduce smoke exposure when spending time outdoors. Limiting outdoor activities, especially during peak smoke hours, and seeking indoor environments with clean air are also important strategies. Vulnerable populations, including children, the elderly, and individuals with pre-existing respiratory conditions, should take extra precautions and consult healthcare professionals for personalized guidance.

As smoky summers become more prevalent in the Midwest and Northeast regions, proactive preparation is essential for safeguarding the health and well-being of residents. By understanding the causes and effects of smoky conditions, enhancing awareness and communication, developing emergency response plans, improving indoor air quality, and implementing personal protective measures, communities can mitigate the risks associated with smoke exposure. A collaborative effort involving individuals, communities, and authorities is crucial in preparing for and adapting to the challenges of more smoky summers in the future.

To track smoke, air quality and fire information, you can access the following site.

This map provides real-time smoke, air quality and fire information. (airnow.gov)

The Cowboys, this weekend, Sat. July 15, at Camp 5

The Cowboys will be at Camp 5, this Saturday, July 15. With great looking horses, authentic looking cowboy clothing and six guns, they will be robbing the train every trip. Of course, the good guys will come to the rescue, and you will be able to make the trip safely to Camp 5. Keep your eyes peeled when you are visiting. These guys have been known to have a shootout after trying to rob the train.

This is a special day at Camp 5. The Cowboys provide some special entertainment when they visit, and you won't want to miss it! See the ad inside for more info.

It should be noted that not all of these cowboys are rough looking, unwashed gents. Some look a bit better than the

Update on Polk Street Project from the Crandon Water and Sewer Utility

The Crandon Water and Sewer Utility has made progress to the community to insure the safe operations of our water and wastewater system. The Polk Street project was to repair and replace infrastructure that was put in place in the late 1930s, making the pipes approximately 85 years old. There were 13 blocks of water mains, 5049 feet, and sewer mains, 4,595 feet, along with a complete road construction. The sewer mains were lined with cure in place pipes and 13 new fire hydrants were installed. The city received $3,001,412 in grant funding and principle forgiveness. Unfortunately, the utility is responsible to pay the balance of $1,009,809 with a 30 year loan with interest of 1.35 percent. The water and sewer rates will increase due to this loan. On average, a residential service could expect to increase $8.60 more per month.

History on Tap to feature Moonshine in the Northwoods

See us online at pioneerexpresscrandon.com

The Crandon Area Historical Society is excited to announce the return of their popular History on Tap program scheduled for Wednesday, July 26th at 6:00 p.m. at the Night Owl in Downtown Crandon.

Local Northwoods historian Jim Bokern will present "Moonshine in the Northwoods", featuring photos, documents, research, and stories that reveal how moonshine operations changed and impacted several Northwoods' communities including those in Forest County. During Prohibition, visitors and residents to the Northwoods of Wisconsin sought sanctuary from Volstead Act enforcement in remote northern towns and villages.

This program is free and open to the public. The public is encouraged to attend in their best 1920's attire but it is not required. Donations to the Forest County Historical Society's "Save the Records" Campaign will gladly be accepted. The campaign is an effort to draw attention to the need to preserve our county's history by ensuring the records, photos and newspapers in our county are preserved, and digitized for researchers, students and local history efforts.

For more information about this event, or the Save the Records Campaign, please contact Michelle Gobert at forestctyhistory@gmail.com.

Crandon Water & Sewer Utility to hold public hearing to increase water rates

The Crandon Water and Sewer Utility has filed an application with the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin (PSCW) to increase water rates. The increase is necessary due to an 81.85 percent increase in gross plant investment and a 16.36 percent increase in operating expenses since the last water rate case was completed in 2015.

The total increase in water revenues requested is $103,405, which will result in an estimated overall rate increase of 44.72 percent over the water utility's present revenues. If the request is granted, the water bill for an average residential customer with a 5/8 inch or 3/4 inch meter who uses 8,000 gallons of water per quarter will increase from $64.80 to $94.86 or 46.39 percent, including the public fire protection charge.

A public hearing on the application has been scheduled for Thursday, July 13, 2023 at 2:00 p.m. This hearing has no physical location. Parties and Commission staff appear by Zoom. For Old Times Sake

The ladies shown above were residents of Padus in about 1910. This sawmill town survived until the timber ran out and John Hammes had to close the sawmill. When it was running, it was a complete little community, with a post office, store, hotel and the train stopping by the front door of the store/hotel on a daily basis. The town faded, but there are plenty of modern houses in Padus these days, and it is part of Wabeno now.

The lady in front of the door is Annie Hammes, who stayed on living in the old hotel that was also the Hammes home. She was the sole citizen of this town for a number of years.

This is a summer picture, and those of you who are modern women and dressing in light summer attire should think back to 1910 and what these ladies had to wear to be properly dressed. They may have had the urge to start throwing off their clothes when the temp hit 90!

Nicolet College graduating Cosmetology class of 2023

Fourteen individuals in the Cosmetology program at Nicolet College advanced from college students to college graduates as the college recently held the highly anticipatedcompletion celebration for the Cosmetology class of 2023.

The event marked the culmination of their rigorous training and the beginning of their careers in the beauty industry.

We are incredibly proud of the graduates of the Cosmetology class of 2023," said Marie Stott, head instructor of the program. "They've demonstrated an unwavering commitment to their craft and have shown tremendous growth throughout their journey. All of them have mastered the latest techniques, trends, and practices in the Cosmetology field. We have every confidence that they will achieve remarkable success in their careers."

The graduates are now eligible to take the Wisconsin Cosmetology License Examination. Upon receiving a license, graduates will be ready for employment in a variety of positions in barbershops or salons.

During their course of study in the 39-credit technical diploma program, the graduates learned a wide variety of skills that included basic and advanced hair cutting and styling, adding texture and color to hair, nail and skin care, salon science, shaving, and communication skills.

"With a curriculum that emphasizes hands-on experience, industry knowledge, and the latest trends. these graduates are ready to become trailblazers in the field and enjoy successful careers as they move into the next chapter of their lives," Stott added.

The next start date for the year-long Cosmetology program is Sept. 5

For more information, visit nicoletcollege.edu or call the college at (715) 365-4493.

New credit transfer between Nicolet & UW-SP is a smooth pathway to

Accounting bachelor's degree

Northwoods residents looking to earn a bachelor's degree in Accounting without leaving the area can now do so thanks to a new credit transfer agreement between Nicolet College and the University of Wisconsin - Stevens Point.

Once students earn the two-year associate's degree in Accounting at Nicolet, they transfer to UW-Stevens Point with full junior status.

This agreement creates a clear path for students with a Nicolet Accounting associate's degee to transfer seamlessly to UW-Stevens Point," said Ellen Mathein, Nicolet dean of Business and Entrepreneurship. "One of the greatest benefits to starting a bachelor's degree at Nicolet is the cost savings. Not only are credits less expensive, commonly only half as much or even less, but local students can also live at home while attending Nicolet, which also saves on room and board. Combined, the savings can amount to many thousands of dollars.

The new agreement took effect July 1.

Nicolet's Accounting program is also offered in the highlyflexible Nicolet MyWay format, with students completing the coursework at the times that are best for them and fit around their busy lives.

In order to accomplish this, the curriculum is broken down into smaller chunks, known as competencies.

Once students have proven that they've mastered one competency, they move on to the next. When they've demonstrated proficiency with all of the required competencies, they are awarded college credits and ultimately a college degree.

A portion of the required coursework is commonly completed face-to-face with instructors during open lab times or during scheduled faculty office hours. The remainder is completed online at times that best suit student schedules.

'The academic rigor is the same for Nicolet MyWay classes as it is for the traditional format," Mathein explained. 'College is challenging for many. There's just no way around that. Just because a class is much more flexible doesn't mean it's going to be easier."

The Nicolet MyWay format also allows students to start college at numerous times throughout the year. Upcoming start dates in 2023 include Sept. 5, Oct. 2, and Nov. 6.

Over the years Nicolet has partnered with over 40 fouryear universities and colleges to create meaningful articulation agreements. These are aimed at ensuring students experience a smooth transition and academic preparedness as they embark on their journey to pursue a higher degree.

For more information on Nicolet's Accounting degree and the pathway to earn a bachelor's degree from UW-Stevens Point, visit nicoletcollege.edu or call the college at (715) 365-

Carol Jean Statezny of Crandon passed away Wednesday, July 5, 2023, at Aspirus Rhinelander Hospital. She was 90 years old. She was born on September 11, 1932, in Laona, a daughter of Eugene and Marvel (Marsh) Lamond. Carol graduated from Crandon High School with the class of 1950. She married Melvin Statezny in Michigan on November 8, 1954. He preceded her in death on November 1, 2016. She and Melvin were blessed with seven children.

She loved working at the Crandon Arcade as a Pin Setter, manually standing pins up for bowlers. From that point she took a fond interest in bowling, having joined several leagues and earning many, many trophies throughout her lifetime. Another job she truly enjoyed was working at the family Texaco Gas Station, affectionately known as Mel's Texaco. Carol was one of the original members of the Crandon Rescue Squad, the Royal Neighbors of America, the American Legion Auxiliary and she became a member of The Order of The Eastern Star on November 13, 1968. She attended as many school and sporting events as possible for her children and grandchildren.

Benjamin Scott Kerr, 35, of Crandon passed away unexpectedly on July 6, 2023, at his home.

Benjamin (Ben) was born in Rhinelander, Wi on November 12, 1987, to Susan and Randolph Kerr of Crandon. Ben lived in Crandon his entire life.

During his childhood he was better known as one of the "valley kids." Ben was most known for his "tinkering with things." He enjoyed taking things apart and making them into something new. He was a simple young man that loved the outdoors. His pride and Joy was his dog Mya. You would not find him without his dog. She was more than a dog to him, that was his everything.

Ben looked up to his cousins, Billy and Jimmy Gryczkowski of Argonne. They were more like brothers to him. He spent a lot of his time over the years with them.

Ben has five nephews, three nieces and one great-nephew. These kids loved their uncle as much as he loved them. The way the kids' eyes light up when they see their uncle was enough to make anyone's heart melt. He truly had a heart of gold.

He is survived by his parents, Susan and Randolph Kerr; siblings, Rachel Russell and Ashley (Robert) Zagar; nephews, Jacob, Aiden and Hunter, Gaberiel and Levi; nieces, Lea, Aubree and Paytyn; one great nephew, Joseph; aunts and uncles, Jayne Meyer, Charlie and Jackie Russell, Lee Kerr and Robert Kubiak; and his nieces, nephews, and many cousins.

He was preceded in death by his grandparents, Charlie and Alice Russell and Larry and Dianna Kerr and Beverly Randolph; aunts, Christina Kubiak and Debbie Kerr; and uncles, William Kerr and Mike Meyers.

A celebration of life will be held on July 22, 2023 starting at 12 p.m. (noon) at the Argonne Pavilion.

Karen Sue (Hauser) Tedesco, 82, went to heaven on the 20th of November, 2022.

Karen was born in Crandon, Wisconsin on November 26, 1940 to Maurice and Luella Hauser. She was the oldest of six children that include her three brothers, Ronald "Butch" Hauser, Gerald "Gerry" Hauser and Dennis Hauser; and two sisters, Jeanne Hageman and Victoria "Vicki" Hauser. Karen graduated from Crandon High School in 1958 and later in life, went back to school and earned a degree in computers from Moraine Park Technical College in Fond du Lac, Wisconsin. Karen was married to Jerome Harris and then later divorced. She remarried in 1982 to the love of her life and best friend for 40 years, Daniel "Danny" Tedesco.

After graduation, Karen lived in Carter, Wisconsin; Lakewood, Wisconsin; Townsend, Wisconsin; Fond du Lac, Wisconsin; Laona, Wisconsin; and then in Appleton, Wisconsin. One of her greatest accomplishments in life was going back to college and studying computers .The college degree led to a job at Grande Cheese. She loved to travel and after she retired from Grande Cheese, Karen and Danny would winter down in Gulf Shores, Alabama. She loved being down south with Danny and the many friends they made there.

Karen was preceded in death by her brother, Dennis; her father, Maurice; and her mother, Luella.

She is survived by her husband, Daniel Tedesco; four siblings; five sons, Daniel "Dan" Harris, Michael "Mike" Harris, Jeffery "Jeff" Harris, Robert "Bob" Harris and Christopher "Chris" Tedesco; her four step-children, Robert "Bob" Tedesco, Thomas "Tom" Tedesco, Timothy "Tim" Tedesco, and Amanda (Tedesco) Lawless; seven grandchildren; four great-grandchildren; and five stepgrandchildren.

Karen's ashes will be laid to rest at noon on July 15, 2023 at the Lakeside Cemetery in Crandon, WI, next to her beloved father and mother.

To the Editor:

Since the year 2000 I have spent many hours in the library and utilized many services provided by the excellent staff members. Attempting to do an in-depth genealogical study of my family lines in Kentucky was both time consuming and frustrating using the "snail mail" approach. Laurie and Michelle persuaded me to learn how to use a computer, and since I did not even know how to turn a computer on, it was challenging and time-consuming for the two of them to teach me what I needed to know. I could do more work in one hour using the computer than I could do in two days with the old-fashioned research methods.

The library has played a major role in my daily life since the doors were opened in 2000. I have been treated with great respect and have had nothing but excellent service from all the employees over these many years. We are indeed fortunate to have such a wonderful library in a small town. I am amazed to see the utilization of services offered by the many citizens of the area whenever I frequent the library. Especially noticeable is the range of ages who take advantage of the services offered. I see everything from tiny, young children to old timers like me using the library every time I go there.

I wish them all the best in achieving the goals of their fundraising campaign. This institution is an asset to the community and the surrounding area.

Sincerely, Bill Sundberg

Rep. Swearingen Celebrates Passage of a State Budget Made for Wisconsin

Madison, WI – Today, the Wisconsin State Assembly passed the 2023-2025 Biennial Budget, which provides the largest tax relief in Wisconsin state history, makes significant investments in transportation infrastructure, and addresses ongoing PFAS concerns.

Representative Rob Swearingen (R-Rhinelander)

made the following statement:
"I am very pleased that the Assembly passed another fiscally responsible budget that the Assembly passed another riscarly responsible budget that places an emphasis on returning tax dollars back to the hard-working people of Wisconsin. Over the past decade, Republicans in the legislature are responsible for a total of $22 billion in tax cuts. This budget continues that trend".

The budget includes a total of $4.4 billion in tax relief. This includes reductions in property tax, income tax, and the elimination of the personal property tax for businesses. The income tax will be reduced by $3.5 million, resulting in an average cut of 15%. Over $600 million will be allocated for lowering the property tax burden.

"We are investing $1.5 billion to improve our transportation infrastructure. The transportation budget provides a $285 million increase for local roads and a $125 million increase for state highway rehabilitation. More importantly, this budget bonds $88 million less than what Governor Evers proposed, ensuring that we meet the needs of our local communities, keep projects on track, and save future taxpayer dollars."

The budget also allocates funding to create the Wisconsin PFAS Trust Fund.

"I have witnessed firsthand the impact of PFAS contamination in the 34th Assembly District. This drove me to fight for vital funding for PFAS management in our state budget. I am thrilled to say that we have allocated $125M to the PFAS Trust Fund. Through collaborative efforts with stakeholders and experts, we are determined to combat PFAS contamination and safeguard the health and prosperity of our state."

Assembly Bill 312 has been introduced to determine how the fund will be administered.

Representative Swearingen represents the 34th Assembly District, which includes the Northwoods counties of Oneida and Vilas.

PIONEER EXPRESS PAGE 13, JULY 17, 2023 Social wellness checklist for your healthiest self

People are social creatures by nature. From the time we're born and all throughout our lives, our relationships help us learn to navigate the world around us. We learn how to interact with others, express ourselves and build community. These connections are fundamental to our growth and development as children, but they remain essential to our overall health and well-being throughout adulthood.

"Social connectedness impacts every part of our "Social connectedness impacts every part of our lives – how we think, how we feel emotionally and physically, and the choices that we make. When we have stable support systems and feel like we truly belong, we tend to live longer, happier and healthier lives," says Tracy Clay, Nurse Practitioner at Aspirus Woodruff Clinic.

Social connection can help prevent and improve serious illness and outcomes such as heart disease, stroke, dementia, depression and anxiety. On the other hand, social disconnection puts us at a higher risk for developing these conditions. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), people with stronger social bonds have a 50 percent increased likelihood of survival than those socially lacking.

Creating and improving social connections can take time. There are no official guidelines or a one-size-fits-all strategy, but these tips from the CDC and National Institutes of Health (NIH) can help:

Invest time in nurturing your relationships. Make time regularly to visit with those you cherish and be intentional about catching up on each other's lives.

- Look for ways to get involved with others. Be open to trying something new or seek out spaces where people are sharing in an activity that you already enjoy.
- "Join a local community group, take a class, join a gym or volunteer. Putting ourselves out there can be scary, but regular social exchanges can help us build the meaningful relationships we're looking for," says Clay.
- •Get active together. Being active with others in your community can have a positive effect on your health habits and create opportunities to connect. You can help your community create ways to encourage more physical activity.
- Find ways to be responsive, supportive and grateful to others. Send a card, offer to help a friend move or surprise a loved one with a coffee or sweet treat. Remind those you care about that you're thinking of them. Lend a helping hand when you are able.
- •Bond with your kids. Parents have an important job. Raising kids is both rewarding and challenging. Being sensitive, responsive, consistent and available to your kids can help you build positive, healthy relationships with them. The strong emotional bonds that result help children learn how to manage their own feelings and behaviors and develop self-confidence. Children with strong connections to their caregivers are more likely to be able to cope with life's challenges.
- •Reduce practices that lead to feelings of disconnection from others, such as excessive social media use.

"Technology can trick us into thinking we're more connected, when it's actually contributing to increased levels of disconnection, social isolation and feelings of loneliness." Clay advises putting down the phone for a while and making plans to connect with loved ones face to face, when possible.

• Talk with a health care provider about concerns like stress, loneliness and social isolation.

Baldwin Applauds decision to roll back junk

insurance plans

Baldwin has led the charge to limit junk plans that can deny people with pre-existing conditions coverage since they were expanded by President Trump in 2018

WASHINGTON, D.C. – U.S. Senator Tammy Baldwin (D-WI) is applauding the Biden Administration for heeding her years-long call to limit the availability of short-term, limited duration insurance (STLDI) plans, or junk plans, that can deny people with pre-existing conditions coverage and trick customers with low premiums, only to fail to provide adequate health care coverage when they need it most. Since President Trump first allowed for junk plans to be expanded in 2018, Senator Baldwin has pushed to limit the use of these junk plans, and urged President Biden to take action since he took office.

"Junk plans are just that: junk. The lower sticker price misleads Americans into buying health insurance that does not have to cover pre-existing conditions, prescription drugs, maternity care, and a host of other basic needs, all while sticking patients with a huge bill to pay out of pocket when they do need health care," said Senator Baldwin. "By finally limiting the duration of these plans and providing better protections for Americans, we are helping ensure that when families spend their hard-earned dollars on health insurance, they get the high-quality coverage they

The new draft regulation rolls back a 2018 Trump Administration effort designed to sabotage the Affordable Care Act (ACA) that made junk plans more widely available to consumers. Since then, these plans have continued to expand, however, they are not required to adhere to important standards, including prohibitions on discrimination against people with pre-existing conditions, coverage for the 10 essential health benefit categories, and annual out-of-pocket maximums. Once finalized, the Biden Administration's rule will restore a 90-day limit on the use of STLDI plans, instead of the current four years maximum, so junk plans can only be used on a temporary basis as intended.

The cost of our 4th of July

Have you ever wondered what happened to the 56 men who signed the Declaration of Independence?

Five signers were captured by the British as traitors, and tortured before they died. Twelve had their homes ransacked and burned.

Two lost their sons serving in the Revolutionary Army; another had two sons captured.

Nine of the 56 fought and died from wounds or hardships of the Revolutionary War. They signed and they pledged their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor.

What kind of men were they?

Twenty-four were lawyers and jurists.

Eleven were merchants, nine were farmers and large plantation owners; men of means, well-educated, but they signed the Declaration of Independence knowing full well that the penalty would be death if they were captured.

Carter Braxton of Virginia, a wealthy planter and trader, saw his ships swept from the seas by the British Navy. He sold his home and properties to pay his debts, and died in rags.

Thomas McKeam was so hounded by the British that he was forced to move his family almost constantly. He served in the Congress without pay, and his family was kept in hiding. His possessions were taken from him, and poverty was his Vandals or soldiers looted the properties of Dillery, Hall, Clymer, Walton, Gwinnett, Heyward, Ruttledge, and Middleton.

At the battle of Yorktown, Thomas Nelson, Jr., noted that the British General Cornwallis had taken over the Nelson home for his headquarters. He quietly urged General George Washington to open fire. The home was destroyed, and Nelson died bankrupt.

Francis Lewis had his home and properties destroyed. The enemy jailed his wife, and she died within a few months.

John Hart was driven from his wife's bedside as she was dying. Their 13 children fled for their lives. His fields and his gristmill were laid to waste. For more than a year he lived in forests and caves, returning home to find his wife dead and his children

So, take a few minutes while enjoying a 4th of July holiday and silently thank these patriots. It's not much to ask for the price they paid.

Remember: freedom is never free! We thank these early patriots, as well as those patriots now fighting to KEEP our freedom!

It's time we get the word out that patriotism is NOT a sin, and the Fourth of July has more MEANING to it than beer, fireworks, hot dogs, and picnics....
