Book Signing Event at Camp 5 Sara Connor presents her new book

By Mike Monte

Sara Witter Connor has recently published a book titled Wisconsin's Flying Trees in World War II. She has done extensive research over a number of years to find the information needed to chronicle the efforts made by the Lake States logging and lumber industry to help the Allies win World War II.

Did you know that one of the most effective planes used during the War was the British Mosquito and that the plane was constructed of plywood? And, that much of that plywood came from Wisconsin? To be more exact, much of the plywood used in the Mosquito and our gliders and the famed Spruce Goose came from the Roddis Lumber and Veneer plant in Marshfield, Wisconsin.

In her book, Connor covers the timber industry war effort from the stump to the skies over Europe, when the famed Mosquito was making daily raids on the European continent, and when U.S. soldiers dropped from the skies behind the Normandy beaches on D-Day.

Sara has done a tremendous job documenting these efforts in word and vintage pictures. It is well worth the read!

Book Signing at Camp 5

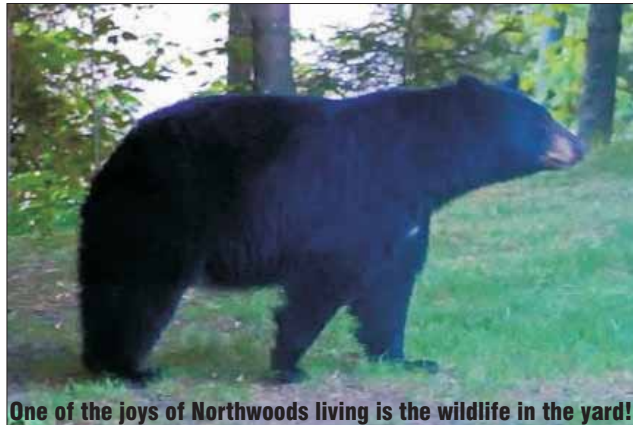

To celebrate Sara Connor's achievement and the works of other northern Wisconsin authors, Camp 5 Museum will be hosting a book signing on Saturday, June 28th, from 11:30 until 3:00 p.m. Visitors to this destination tourist stop will have the opportunity to meet Connor, discuss her work, and possibly buy a signed copy.

In addition, Northwoods author and guide Buckshot Anderson will also be on hand with his work. Anderson recently published a book titled "Why I Was Fishing." He has been a columnist for the Lakeland Times and was a fishing and hunting guide for 60 years and was recently inducted into the Wisconsin Fishing Hall of Fame. Anderson's father and grandfather were also in the logging and sawmill business and he has stories to tell of their logging exploits and ventures. He will be displaying a vintage photo of his grandfather's logging days in Alvin as well as bringing along copies of "Daylight in the Swamp" and "Cork Boots & Canthooks," both by Wisconsin authors.

Nicolet Sportsman Club to hold Invasive Species meeting in Wabeno

The Nicolet Sportsman Club from Wabeno will be holding a meeting at the Wabeno Town Hall on July 3rd, at 7:00 p.m. on the subject of invasive species. The information will be worth having to those who would like to keep the effects of unwanted invasive species off the landscape.

John Preuss from the Lumberjack RC&D will be on hand to make the presentation. Preuss is the Invasive Species Coordinator for the organization, and he knows

One of the joys of Northwoods living is the wildlife in the yard!

Crandon Farmer's Market to begin on Wednesdays

The Crandon Farmer's Market will be open on Wednesdays, from 3:30 p.m. until 5:30 p.m. on the Courthouse Square in Crandon.

This is an opportunity for people to eat locally grown foods, and provide work for those who want to grow food for local consumption.

This is a no-charge event for vendors. Everyone who is growing food can come and sell, just bring your own table and chairs.

For those of you who have the ground and a desire to garden, this is a good opportunity to raise a few bucks as well as some vegetables or fruits. It is not a flea market, and is open only to those with something to sell that is healthy to eat.

Everyone is welcome, both sellers and vendors, and it is hoped that a Farmer's Market will be a regular feature in Crandon and other places in Forest County.

Bullheads offered free June 20th

Bullheads are available and free to area residents and tribal members. Come to the south end of Lake Metonga on Friday, June 20th, 2014 beginning at 12:00 noon.

Bring your bucket or cooler for the number of fish you select up to a maximum of 50 per household. Arrangements for larger quantities can be made by calling Mike Preul the Sokaogon Chippewa Fishery biologist at 715-478-7621.

Lake Metonga Association has partnered with the Sokaogon Chippewa Community and with the approval of the Wisconsin DNR to harvest bullheads, which have had a negative impact on the larger game fish population in Lake metonga. Mike Preul will use the Tribe's electro-shocking boat for this harvest.

High demand Manufacturing training at Nicolet spans the generations

Matt Laddisure and Bruce Wiers come from different worlds.

Matt's a recent high school graduate. Bruce retired from the military, having served 26 years in the Army, including tours in Afghanistan.

Today, both are enrolled in Nicolet's Manufacturing program.

"Students of all ages are seeing manufacturing as an attractive career," said Richard Johnson, Nicolet Industrial Maintenance instructor. "Whether they are starting their first career, or second or third, students recognize that the skills they learn are in high demand and that jobs in this field pay attractive wages."

Bruce retired from the Army in 2009 with the rank of Master Sergeant, specializing in electronic communication. Finding a job in the civilian world was a challenge, but he eventually landed a position at HyPro in Rhinelander, starting in quality control. That's where he learned about the Manufacturing program at Nicolet.

"Right away I knew Nicolet was a great fit for me," he said. "Once I started classes it became obvious that there were many more opportunities for advancement with the kind of training I was getting at Nicolet."

Today, Bruce is making the transition from quality control to industrial maintenance at HyPro.

As for Matt, he landed a job in the maintenance department at Drs. Foster & Smith after his first year at Nicolet.

"I seriously doubt I would have gotten such a good job without the skills I'm learning at Nicolet," he said. "What we learn in class applies directly to what I do on the job."

Both Bruce and Matt are working on Industrial Mechanical Technician Program associate degrees. Both said they are committed to finishing their associate degrees while they work in the field.

"This is actually common," said Richard, their instructor. "Once they start learning the basic skills, students qualify for jobs in related industries. What they then realize is that the more skills they acquire the greater the opportunities for advancement and the better the pay. That's why they continue taking classes to complete their degrees."

And for good reason. Nicolet graduates with a manufacturing associate degree can expect to earn $35,000 to $40,000 a year in an entry level position in the Northwoods.

In all, Nicolet offers eight different academic credentials in Manufacturing. This includes a new, two-year associate degree in Electromechanical Technology.

For more information about job skills training opportunities at Nicolet, visit nicoletcollege.edu or call the Nicolet Welcome Center at (715) 365-4493, 1-800-544-3039, ext. 4493; TTY 711 or 1-800-947-3529.

Intern to work with Wisconsin Wins Program

Meagan Neis from the University of Wisconsin-Madison, is joining the Wisconsin Wins project and visiting tobacco license holders to find out which businesses are complying with the law and which ones may need to provide their employees with more training regarding tobacco sales. Neis will be working in six counties: Oneida, Forest, Lincoln, Florence, Vilas, and Price.

WI Wins was launched in the spring of 2002 as part of a comprehensive approach to preventing youth access to tobacco. With the help of local retailers, illegal sale rates in the six counties above have dropped from 22% in 2012 to 9 % in 2013. According to Neis, "Wisconsin Wins is an outstanding program. I am excited to work with the youth and play an active role in the culture change surrounding tobacco in the Northwoods. My goal is to help the sale and usage rate of tobacco reach 0%."

The CDC states that on average, smokers die 10 years earlier than nonsmokers and that cigarette smoking causes more than 480,000 deaths each year in the United States. This is about one in five deaths! Yet, every day in the United States 3,600 young people between the ages of 12 and 17 years initiate cigarette smoking. When clerks make a difference to decrease youth access to tobacco products, Wisconsin wins.

Medicare and You

Turning 65 - What do I do - Do I need a supplement? Medicare Advantage Plan? How much will it cost? Do I need a drug plan? What's Senior Care?

If you aren't sure about any of these questions attend the "Welcome to Medicare" training on Wednesday, June 25th at 10:00 a.m. at the ADRC of the Northwoods or call 715-478-2162 for more information. Kate Schultz, Elderly Benefit Specialist.

Knocking out Procrastination

Written By: Qaiser Abbas

Does this story sound very familiar?

I am sure you will agree with me that we all encounter postponements that keep us from doing what is critical for our success. We cannot always control what happens to us but we can always exercise control over how it will impact us. We do not have to let delays defeat us. We don't have to give into these energy suckers and become a victim of procrastination. Why should we leave ourselves at the mercy of 'The Guilt of the Incomplete'? But first the question arises, why do we do that?

WHY DO WE Procrastinate. Before we discover a treatment for this universal disease, 'procrastination', let us look at some of the reasons behind it.

- 1. Waiting for the right mood. You don't feel like doing it. Your mood is o_ and you are emotionally down.
- 2. Waiting for the right time. You don't think that it is the right time to take action, when actually it is.
- 3. Lack of clear goals. How can you feel inclined to do it when the goal is not clear?
- 4. Underestimating the difficulty of the task. You thought doing it was no big deal, but when you started you realized that you would have to put in much more effort than you first thought. So why not postpone it for now?
- 5. Unclear standards for the task outcomes. You started but did not have an idea about exactly what was expected. You did not know the performance criteria.
- 6. Feeling the task is imposed on you. When you think you have to do it, your motivation is reduced. Your heart and mind are not fully involved.
- 7. The task is too ambiguous. You finally got around to doing it but the task was too vague, unclear and blurred. Then you did not find good reason to continue.
- 8. Fear. 'I don't think I can do it; if I go ahead I will not succeed.'
- 9. Perfectionism. 'I don't have the right skills or resources to do this perfectly, so I won't do it at all.'

FROM INACTION TO ACTION

After acquiring all the tools, techniques and strategies, why do people not put into use what they know? Why do people choose inaction instead of taking action? We have identified some psychological fears. These fears suppress your inventiveness; your talents and resources remain hidden, undeveloped and untapped. These fears include:

- 1. Fear of failure. If I were unsuccessful, how would I handle the embarrassment? It's better not to show up for this presentation. Let's procrastinate.
- 2. Fear of success. If I do it this time, people will expect me to do it again. Will I be able to handle the pressure that comes with success?
- 3. Fear of the status quo. If the status quo is disturbed, who knows how the new situation will turn out? Let's maintain things as they are. Why take a risk?
- 4. Fear of perfection. If I started it now, I would not complete it until I achieved a level of perfection. Do I have time for perfection?
- 5. Fear of loss. If I did it now, I might end up losing out on a few things.

Can you recognize that you're procrastinating? How would you recognize in yourself the symptoms of procrastination?

I am listing some of them:

- Filling your day with low priority tasks from your To Do list
- Reading an e-mail more than once, without starting work on it
- Starting work on a high-priority task, and almost immediately going off to make yourself a cup of coffee or check your e-mails
- Leaving an item on your To Do list undone for a long time, even though you know it's important
- Regularly saying 'Yes' and filling up your time with unimportant tasks

Why you procrastinate can depend on both you and the task. They can often be reduced to two main reasons:

- 1. You find the task unpleasant; or
- 2. You find the task overwhelming

Now that you know the symptoms and reasons for procrastinating, the question is how do you crush procrastination? How do you knock it out?

ANTI-PROCASTINATION-FORMULA

This attitude or syndrome has the potential to negatively impact your results, success and even your entire life. I have created a strategy to defeat procrastination and build results faster. I call it the IMAN TECHNIQUE. I Must Act NOW. So, are you ready to act now?

ATV Safety Course at Riverview Town Hall July 1 & 2

MOUNTAIN – The Hidden Bear Trail ATV Club and the Red Arrow Snowmobile/ATV Club are sponsoring a Wisconsin DNR certified ATV Safety Course. The course will be held in the Riverview Town Hall, 15408 Highway 32, Mountain WI, 5:30 – 9:00 pm on Tuesday, July 1st and Wednesday, July 2nd.

Anyone is welcome to attend the course. A student must be at least 11 years of age to receive a certificate. Those students who have not reached the age of 12 may not use their certificate to operate alone until they turn 12 years of age. There is no maximum age and parents and adults are encouraged to enroll and participate. There is no actual operation of an ATV in this class, so there is no need to bring your ATV or personal equipment. Fees for the course are $10.00 per student. Fee is waived if you or parents are members of the Hidden Bear Trail ATV Club or Red Arrow Snowmobile/ATV Club.

Persons successfully completing the course will receive ATV safety graduate certificates. It is important to note that students must attend both sessions. Anyone born after January 1, 1988 and at least 12 years old must have ATV certification to operate on public areas.

Advanced registration is required. Please contact Jim Wisneski, Secretary, Hidden Bear Trail ATV Club at 715-276-6612 or email at hiddenbeartrailatvclub@centurytel.net. You can also register on line by going to www.dnr.wi.gov. Click on education, safety classes, ATV Class and then Oconto County. Class size will be limited to 30 participants. Students with special needs will need to contact the instructor at least two weeks in advance to request special accommodations.

Students are now required to obtain a DNR customer ID number for any recreational safety class they attend. Please contact the DNR at 1-888-936-7463 between 7 a.m. and 10 p.m. daily to obtain this number before the course begins.

Forest County CAN! Wants you to Focus on Zero

The Forest County CAN! Coalition for Activity and Nutrition and the Forest County Health Department are continuing the 5210 Let's Go! health campaign. The themes of the campaign are Eating 5 or more fruits and vegetables, Limiting screen time to 2 or less hours per day, Getting at least 1 or more hour of physical activity, and this summer the focus is Drinking 0 Sugary beverages.

This campaign is reminding people that sugary drinks usually have little nutrient value and can lead to weight gain, obesity, heart disease and diabetes. There are 16 – 18 teaspoons of sugar in a 20 ounce soda and one soda per day can lead to an extra 25 pounds per year. Nearly 50% of American's increased calories come from sugary beverages.

Reading labels is important because people sometimes overlook the serving size and servings per container. 100 calories per serving might not sound that bad but if you drink the entire container and it has 2.5 servings, you are actually drinking 250 calories.

The coalition is reminding people to “Rethink your Drink” by paying attention to what you are drinking and substituting high calorie beverages for more healthy types like water and low fat milk. Other tips to cut down are to add more water to your juice, add fruit slices to water for tandem of Johnny & CJ Greaves - return to Crandon Raceway for the annual running of the Brush Run, including the $25,000 Forest County Potawatomi Community Cup Race.

Brush Run

Back in 1970 the Crandon Area Jaycees and some 150 volunteers, led by President Rolland Yocum, pulled off what was to be called the inaugural Crandon Brush Run 101. The day began with a breakfast at the high school, with the racers – some 100 of them in dune buggies, modified cars and trucks and motorcycles – taking off from the Forest County Fairgrounds at 1 p.m. Chicago area off-road enthusiasts Wally Schauer and Jim Zbella would win the grueling contest with a time just over three hours.

Not knowing it at the time, the city of Crandon, located 100 miles north of Green Bay, would have written the first chapter of a now 45-year storied history of off-road racing, setting the stage for what's now viewed as the Mecca of short course off-road racing – aka the Big House.

"Back then the Jaycees basically just took the Baja racing they saw on TV and re-created it through the woods around Crandon," explained current Crandon Raceway President Cliff Flannery. "It wasn't until we got bumped from one farmer's property to another that this short course idea really began to take root."

Crandon's story spread like wildfire amongst the tight-knit off-road community. And as the name recognition of the drivers grew, including off-road legend Walker Evans, Crandon's reputation as a big time event caught the attention of television producers – namely ESPN. It got so big they added a second event, a spring race, which officials re-badged as the Brush Run. And in 1989 ESPN would broadcast its first of many Crandon events, the Labor Day contest now being called the "World Championships."

The two events annually draw in the area of 75,000 fans, infusing an estimated $10.5 million into the local economy. As one small gas station owner put it: "The Crandon races are like our second and third Christmases." Fans literally come from all over the United States to be part of the off-road happening that is the Brush Run and World Championships. The camping is a festival in and of itself, bringing family and friends back year after year to the same camping spots where the revel in year's past events while making new friends along the way.

"Everyone at Crandon Raceway is thrilled to be celebrating out 45 year this summer and look forward to seeing everyone out for the Brush Run next weekend," added Flannery. "We've got 650 volunteers that help put on this event and they'll do everything they can to make sure you have one heck of a time here at Crandon Raceway!"

New sponsors for this year's Brush Run include: Polaris, AutoGear, Pepsi & Mt. Dew, Walker Evans Racing, Laona State Bank and Old Wisconsin beef sticks. For ticket information, including camping, please visit www.crandonoffroad.com

Animal Resource Fund News

By Cory Campbell

Our Annual Rummage/Antique sale held at the Nashville Town Hall was an outstanding success! It was a lot of work, but definitely worth the effort.

We appreciate all those who physically helped with the sale, and all those who donated the wonderful merchandise. We had lots of collectibles, antiques, and furniture, plus great home décor from Tricia's.

We have great news for those of you who still have pets that should be spayed/neutered/vaccinated. The Fix Is In, a mobile clinic, has been given a wonderful grant from ASPCA, allowing them to offer even lower rates for these services. These rates will be offered to those residents in zip codes 54103, 54511, 54520, and 54541.

Spay/neuter prices in those areas will be: $20 for male or feral cats, $25 for female cats, $42.50 for male dogs, and $50.00 for female dogs. Dogs weighing in at 60 - 100 will be asked and additional $10. Distemper vaccinations will be available for an additional $5. Rabies vaccine, nail trimming & ear cleaning are included. Call 715-550-7729 to get on their appointment list. Please – when you call, leave a message – she'll return your call. Please be patient, and understand that all of this is made possible through dedicated individuals volunteering their time. The scheduling person will answer all calls when she is able.

The next Crandon clinic will be July 7th, but if you need to get in sooner, there will be a clinic in Rhinelander June 19, and in Antigo June 26 & 27th. You can also go to www.thefixisin.org for more info.

If you're having problems with any of the above, call me at 715-478-2398, and I'll try to help.

If we knew that we'd have a big turn-out for a shot clinic, we'd schedule one, but to purchase all the supplies, and then have low numbers show up, we'd lose a good sum of money. We work so hard to have the funds for the various projects that we finance, we try to plan each expenditure with great care.

We can start a list, and if enough interest is shown, we'll plan a clinic.

Townsend Flowage Association donates to Pickerel Lake Assn.

The Pickerel Chain, located in the Town of Townsend, is comprised of three interconnected lakes: Pickerel, Little Pickerel, and Smoke. The lakes have a history of severe fish population winterkills, usually every ten to twelve years. Typically, this happens when a long cold snowy winter causes dissolved oxygen to be depleted due to aquatic vegetation die-off. This occurred in the winter of 2012-13 when an estimated 95% or over 20,000 fish perished. The seemingly unending winter of 2013-14 resulted in a second consecutive winterkill, almost totally decimating fish populations in the Chain.

In the past, the situation was dealt with by local fishermen who transplanted fish from other local lakes to repopulate the chain. This is no longer an option as concerns about the transfer of diseases and exotic species make this illegal. This means restoring the fishery and solving the problem of recurring winterkills has become the responsibility of the land owners on the lakes. To that end, in May 2013 the Pickerel Chain Lake Association (PCLA) was formed.

According to President Steve Heimermann, PCLA's chief goals were restocking the lakes and eliminating future winterkills. "Working with the DNR, northern pike were restocked in 2013," he stated. "The group also began raising funds and stocked crappies and bluegills with those monies. Considering the history of the Chain, we began studying the feasibility of installing aeration systems in the lakes. PCLA has decided on a plan to install aeration systems in the lakes, beginning with the initial installation in Pickerel Lake in time for the winter of 2014-15. That system could cost up to $13,000. The two smaller lakes have cost estimates of $9,000 each, for a total of $31,000."

Heimermann: "Since aeration systems are not sanctioned under DNR grant programs, such installations must be financed by local fund-raising efforts. The PCLA, as a new organization, is not fully tax exempt at the present time, which limits some fund raising options. Therefore, we are relying on contributions from members and supporters to raise the initial $13,000 in time for this year's aerator installation.

The Townsend Flowage Association recently donated $1000 to PCLA. "We are happy to help our neighbors on the Pickerel Chain," said TFA President Dan Coopman. "We understand and sympathize with their winterkill problems and support Pickerel Chain lakeowners' efforts to come up with a permanent solution."

WILL GARLIC, BANANAS, OR VITAMIN-B REPEL MOSQUITOES? There is no scientific evidence that eating garlic, vitamins, onions, or any other food will make a person repellent to mosquitoes. The attractant level of each individual to biting arthropods is based on a complex interaction of many chemical and visual signals. Certain foods in certain individuals may effect their individual attractiveness to biting arthropods, for better or for worse.
