9th Annual Wabeno Winter Fest this Saturday

Santa
will be there!

The 9th Annual Wabeno Winter Fest will be Saturday, December 6 at the Wabeno Elementary School starting at 9 a.m.

This year will have a craft and vendor fair! Santa will be arriving at noon and children will have their make and take crafts area. The famous chilli contest will take place again as well. There will also be other great food and refreshments on hand for those who don't want chilli. Lee Lamers will entertain the crowd. Everything will take place at the elementary school. This is a good time!

Cut your own Christmas tree on your National Forest

A cutting permit costs $5 per tree and can be purchased at any U.S. Forest Service District Ranger Station. Up to five permits can be sold to a household. Permits and maps may be also obtained by mail but you must allow time for a check to travel through the mail and the permit to be returned.

"Bringing home a tree from a national forest is a wonderful holiday tradition," said U.S. Forest Service Eastern Regional Forester Kathleen Atkinson. "We want to make sure families are safe this holiday season as they venture into the forest to find the perfect tree - be aware of changing weather conditions, dress accordingly and always follow safe cutting practices."

Here are some tips for a safe and successful tree search:

- Make sure your chosen tree is on National Forest System lands; visitor maps can be viewed or purchased at Forest Service offices including your local district ranger office.
- Tree cutting is not permitted in designated wilderness areas or in marked timber sales.
- Choose a cutting area that is away from private property, plantations, body of water, developed recreation or administration sites.
- Select a tree the correct size for your home. Please don't cut the top off of a taller tree.
- Arrive early at your cutting area. It may take longer than you think to find that special tree.
- Be prepared for a winter outdoor experience. Wear proper clothing, bring plenty of snacks and water and make sure your vehicle is prepared for winter travel. Many national forest roads are not maintained or plowed during the winter.
- Let someone know where you are going and when to expect you back.
- Don't rely on your cell phone as it may not work in many areas of the forest.
- Don't forget a rope and tarp to protect your tree for the ride home.
- Cut your tree a bit longer than you'll need (6 to 12 inches), so you'll have room to make a fresh cut on the bottom just before bringing it into the warm house. Don't cut it too much in advance as it will begin to seal up.
- Get your tree into its stand as soon as possible.

Soo Bahk Do classes start in Crandon

Ron Strong, 4th Degree Black Belt, had his first class in Soo Bahk Do last Tuesday at the new Outside the Box Fitness Center soon to open in Crandon. Soo Bahk Do is a Korean style, hard and soft techniques, empty hand, type of karate. Participants do this for physical fitness, to develop better personal control and discipline, balance, personal confidence and self defense. There is also an anti-bullying program in the training. The classes are divided by age groups, and the group above is age 7 to adult. On Wednesdays, there will be a class for 4-6 year old kids. There is also a teen-age and adult class held on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

To participate, equipment isn't necessary. There is a charge of $25 a month for the youngest, and the older groups pay $50 per month. There are also family and veteran discounts available.

Strong became interested in this sport because his kids were taking classes. He joined in for the exercise and personal training. The kids eventually dropped out, but he stayed interested. This is a five-continent discipline, with about 250 studios in the U.S. This is the first studio in Wisconsin. It is a standardized training program world-wide. Strong is vice-chair of the national organization, with about 5,000 students in the U.S.

To get involved, or get your kids involved, call Ron at 906-250-0191. Check him out at facebook.com/strongsbdo.

Laona High student Zatrina McGeshick

The following story appeared originally in the Mole Lake newsletter. The Laona High School wanted to share it with you.

Sokaogon Community Youth Rain Cloud Woman - Zatrina Marie McGeshick

Tribal Member Zatrina Marie McGeshick appears to be much like any other high school student her age. Zatrina is the daughter of Mole Lake Tribal Chairman Chris McGeshick and Tamarr Vollmar. She has three sisters and three brothers, and is an auntie to her one year old nephew, Dalton. Zatrina shares a special relationship with Dalton and takes being an "Auntie" as serious business. As she puts it he is "her world" because of their special bond. She also takes her school work as serious business, maintaining an A average as an honor student. Every weekday morning Zatrina takes Dalton to school with her and drops him off at day care and heads down the hall to the high school. Being a small community, Laona School houses daycare through 12th grade. This happens to be ideal for Zatrina as every chance she gets she can stop in and see "her world," which not even a year ago would have been a serious struggle physically for Zatrina.

To the unknowing eye she is a young pillar of health, both mentally and physical but underneath Zatrina is struggling with a serious illness - Lyme disease. Having been diagnosed after years of fatigue, pain and numerous doctor visits, it was confirmed that Zatrina had stage III Lyme Disease. Having gone undetected for so long, possibly years, Zatrina's case is serious. At 14, she was unable to do every day physical activities such as walking the two blocks home after school or enjoying her summer waterski club. Family thought it was growing pains and doctors initially mis-diagnosed her with rheumatoid arthritis. Zatrina will never play sports like most teens, she cannot be exposed to sunlight for long periods of time and she will take medication most all of her life because there is no cure for Lyme Disease. But Zatrina is determined not to let a serious life altering disease stop her from her goals and aspirations, and as far as anyone can tell, she's on the track.

As a little girl Zatrina told her mom that when she grew up she wanted to be a baby doctor. In 3rd grade, Zatrina remembers picking up a book with all the different kinds of doctors and going through it until she saw what she was looking for: Neonatologist. A Neonatologist is a doctor who specializes in high risk pregnancies, babies born prematurely, or with serious illness or injury.

Looking ahead at her college career, Zatrina knew she needed to take two years of foreign language. She approached Mrs. Krueger, Laona's Guidance Counselor, and asked if she could take Ojibwe Language to meet the foreign language requirement. Mrs. Krueger worked through the summer to make the Ojibwe Language course a reality and when school started this year, Zatrina was set to take "Boozhoo Speech Ojibwe 1", a four credit college course offered by Lac Courte Oreilles Ojibwe Community College. Every day for an hour, Zatrina sits down in an empty classroom and turns on an iTV and joins college students from Lac Courte Oreilles, four students from Unity High School and two students from Everest High School. During the Ojibwe Language course, instructors Ralph and Delores Pawaush and Marjorie Eagleman, taught and spoke of a traditional way of life and Ojibwe ceremonies. One ceremony intrigued Zatrina - The Naming Ceremony. Inspired with a goal, Zatrina went home and asked her father if he would help her start the process of asking for her Indian name.

Her father took her to "Kekek" Jason Stark and Zatrina offered tobacco. After offering tobacco and asking for help in finding her name, Kekek said, "I knew you were coming. I dreamed about it and I already have your name. When you are ready to hold your ceremony, tell me and I will give you your name." Excitedly Zatrina made preparations with her family and friends and chose her We'eh's (sponsors). The sponsors act as surrogate, or Godparents, who provide life-long guidance and support to their namesake. The Naming Ceremony was held at the Mole Lake Tribal Center this past weekend. At the ceremony, Kekek gave Zatrina her name, a name that came to him in a dream and one that would be passed on from his own sister, as it was also her Indian name - Gimiwananakwadokwe which means "Rain Cloud Woman".

Honored with her name and inspired with a connection to her history and culture, "Rain Cloud Woman" will continue taking Ojibwe language classes 1, 2, 3 and 4, and eventually Ojibwe Literature and Story Telling throughout the rest of her schooling. Zatrina authored a Children's Book in Ojibwe called Awesiinh "Wild Animals" as part of her Semester Midterm. She has dedicated Awesiinh "Wild Animals" to Dalton, passing down the language she is learning and making it a part of her family's everyday life.

Aquatic Invasive Species under the ice

Winter has arrived and lakes are starting to freeze. With this change in season comes placing your boat in storage and bringing out the ice auger, tip-ups and shanty. The threat of aquatic invasive species doesn't go away when the lake starts to make ice. When on the ice please follow these rules to prevent the spread of Zebra mussels, Spiny water fleas, Eurasian water milfoil and other invasive species.

-  Inspect ice fishing equipment and
-  Remove attached aquatic plants, mud and animals before leaving the ice
-  Drain all water from equipment and containers containing fish prior to leaving the ice
- o 2 gallons of water may be kept for minnows
-  Do not move live fish away from a waterbody
-  Buy minnows from a Wisconsin licensed bait dealer and use leftover minnows only under certain conditions
- o Leftover minnows can be taken home and reused on the same body of water. Leftover minnows can be used on other waters only if no lake water or fish were added to their container.

Remember it is up to all of us to prevent the spread of aquatic invasive species.

John Preuss is the Lumberjack Resource Conservation and Development Aquatic Invasive Species Coordinator for Lincoln, Langlade and Forest Counties and can be contacted at (715) 369-9886 or johnpreuss@frontier.com

Animal Resource Fund

By Cory Campbell

It's hard to believe, but we are nearing the end of our seventh year with Animal Resource Fund.

We have made some changes along the way, and made some modifications in some of the ways we help animals, but have remained the same in the basic principles we stand by. At the close of each year, we vow to help more animals in more ways in the coming New Year.

The one basic thing that we continue to do is make sure no animal goes hungry. That means we keep the shelves at NEWCAP food pantry stocked with both dog and cat food at all times. Schaefer's Food Mart has continued to donate the plastic bags that we re-bag the food in, and that has really helped cut our expenses. We also make sure that people feeding cats out on their own can count on our help if their finances make supplying the necessary food difficult. This year we bought and distributed 10 tons of food.

A.R.F. has taken many animals into our foster care network in 2014. Even with no facility, we have given care, sterilization surgeries, vaccinations and new homes to every cat and dog that has been made known to us. Once in a while we may have no open foster care, but we'll always figure out a way to help in some way. We have recently begun construction of dog houses.

We get calls nearly daily from those having difficulty financing the vet care for their beloved four-legged family member who is sick or injured. Thankfully, we have never had to say we couldn't help. Needless to say, we appreciate donations from those we have helped when they are financially able. They realize that the next person needing medical care for their pet just may be themselves.

Our biggest fund raiser of the year is our Annual Spring Rummage/Antique sale which this year was held Saturday, June 7th.

This is when we put everything in high gear because of the volume of merchandise we acquire for the sale. We always hold this event at the Nashville Town Hall, as we do all of our events, including shot clinics, etc. I'm proud to say that our Town has always been a strong advocate for animal welfare. The vendors from the Nashville Flea and Craft Market have adopted A.R.F. as their charitable organization, and Linda Radtke, Lindy Meizi, and Dan Berdan were there working with us days before, during the sale, and stayed to help with clean-up. Jeanne Kochenderfer and Jeannie Wyers were there helping also, as they do every year. Nancy Campbell from Wausau, came up to help with that sale as well.

Kathy Gibbs, another vendor at the Flea Market, who sells her great home-made bakery there, donates a portion of her earnings every week to A.R.F.

Thirteen year old Katie Campbell donates all of the earnings from the sales of her photographed greeting cards "Looking Through The Lens" to our organization.

In addition to all the other individual donations we received during the year, Tricia's Treasures and Flowers From the Heart remembered us. Our sale this year surpassed all expectations, and after the big sale, we were given donations from two estates. Lacking sufficient storage space, Dave & I decided to have a second sale at our home garage on the Saturday of Labor Day weekend.

We ran the sale only the one day, as all A.F.R.ers volunteer at the Brush Run that Sunday! Another success – we were able to sell practically everything.

The two events that we did not participate in this year were Kentuck Day and Art In The Square. Our time and energy has gone into our sales, the Wednesday Nashville Flea Market, participation in the Spring and Fall Brush Run events, and keeping our food distribution active. Also, we have been helping to promote The Fix Is In shot clinics and spay/neuter clinics with aggressive advertising. These low cost Clinics have been a God-send to our area, especially since they have been given a grant that has allowed them to cut their already low-cost surgeries by 50%.

On October 11, 2014, the Town of Blackwell hosted the October Wellness Walk. The Forest County Health Dept was there giving advice on diet and exercise and handing out bottled water. The Laona Homemakers and others furnished bars, cookies, etc. and the Town of Blackwell provided juice, apple cider, and coffee. Donations were taken for Animal Resource Fund, and Jenny Henkel, town clerk/treasurer, presented us with $600.00. The Town of Blackwell has always been a strong supporter of animal welfare.

Our Wednesday Flea Market at Nashville Town Hall continues, and on Saturday, December 6th we will be holding our annual Christmas sale with many vendors offering gifts and holiday décor at reasonable prices. A.R.F. will be there, making some last of the year money to see the animals through another Wisconsin Winter. With a donation to A.R.F., You'll get coffee, treats, and a chance to win one of 3 really nice gift baskets – any one of which would make a great Christmas gift.

We appreciate all who have in any way helped animals in peril this year. We at A.R.F. wish you a Blessed Christmas and a happy, healthy New Year.

Ice Dam Prevention
This winter, take these steps to avoid costly and potentially dangerous ice dams:
• Keep your attic well ventilated. The colder the attic, the less melting and refreezing you'll have on your roof.
• Keep the attic floor well insulated to minimize the amount of heat rising through the attic from within the home.
• As an extra precaution against roof leaks, have a contractor install a water-repellent membrane under your roof covering.

Jake Kroll
Wabeno High Student of the Week
Jake Kroll has been nominated as Wabeno High School student of the week by Mrs. Doyle. Jake was chosen because of his dedication to the history of our country during the Civil War Era. He has attended several re-enactments within our state. These re-enactments closely portray the life of a young man during the Civil War on both the North and South side. He has continued to show his pride in our country by enlisting into the Army National Guard Infantry Division.
Jake is the son of Jeff and Rhonda Kroll. He has two brothers, Jeremiah and Joseph. When asked what some of his interests are he responds by saying "Hunting, fishing, re-enacting the Civil War, listening to George Strait while driving around in the woods". Gettysburg is his favorite movie and football is his favorite sport. Jake's Uncle Bob "BK" who is fun to hunt with is one of his favorite relatives. Jake states that there is a 3-way tie as to who his hero is, his father, Robert E. Lee and Batman.
Jake was a member of a very successful Cross Country team this year. He took it upon himself to be a great motivator while running the halls and outside when the weather was good. He would never ask anyone to do something that he couldn't do himself. He will continue to do Track and Field in the spring this year.
Jake's plan after he graduates is to continue being an Infantry Soldier and to do some type of excavation work like his father. He would like to thank everyone he's ever met because they've given him experiences and have been pieces to the puzzle in his journey so far.

The DNR look at the 2014 gun deer season

With new rule changes this year, deer hunters throughout Wisconsin embraced the excitement of another nine-day gun deer season. A continued commitment to safe hunting led to an all-time low for recorded hunting incidents during the nine-day season.

"Deer hunters throughout the state have been excellent partners in not only learning new rules, but passing on traditions to youth and first-time hunters out there in the woods," said Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources Secretary Cathy Stepp. "As always, we put safety first, and the efforts of hunters to do the same led to a banner year for safe hunting in Wisconsin."

Preliminary harvest summary

This year's preliminary harvest figures indicate a total of 191,550 deer harvested. The overall buck harvest of 90,336 was down roughly 8 percent. Minnesota, Illinois and Iowa have seen a similar decline in overall harvest in 2014.

Kevin Wallenfang, DNR big game ecologist, said the northeast and southern counties saw buck kills that were virtually unchanged compared to 2013. The largest decline in buck harvest figures was observed in the far northern counties, where it decreased by 18 percent compared to 2013. This area also saw a 58 percent decrease in antlerless harvest. This was a designed reduction in antlerless harvest in an attempt to increase deer numbers in the Northern Forest Zone. Overall, statewide antlerless harvest saw a 21 percent decline from 2013.

Western counties saw a decrease in buck harvest of roughly 8 percent, with the bulk of the decline seen in counties that are farthest north within the region and/or counties that include portions of the Central Forest Zone.

Preliminary nine-day harvest numbers are collected through a call-around survey of over 600 deer registration stations all across Wisconsin and likely will increase when all registration tags are officially counted. Wisconsin sees all-time low for recorded hunting incidents during nine-day hunt

During the nine-day hunt, a total of three confirmed shooting related incidents were reported - this is an all-time low.

"Over one million hunters have attended a hunter education course since 1967, and with that many hunters knowing the firearm safety rules we will continue to see a safer hunting tradition in Wisconsin," said Jon King, DNR conservation warden and hunter education administrator. More than 28,000 students complete the hunter safety program every year, thanks to the work of more than 4,100 volunteer hunter education instructors. Before the hunter education course started, hunter fatalities during the season often reached double digits.

Hunters asked to participate in online Deer Hunter Wildlife Survey and County Deer Advisory Council Survey

The Deer Hunter Wildlife Survey is still active until the end of all deer seasons and wildlife managers are asking hunters to send in a report of what they saw during the just completed nine-day gun hunt and during any hunting trips they make through the end of all deer hunting seasons. This information provides valuable data biologists use to improve population estimates for Wisconsin's deer herds and other species.

December County Deer Advisory Council meetings will be open to the public for any additional comments as the councils finalize their recommendations. To view a meeting schedule, visit dnr.wi.gov and search keyword "CDAC."

An online survey is also available through Dec. 5 for those who are unable to attend their county's meeting and would like to provide feedback.

2014 license sales

The department's license sales office reported 608,711 gun deer and 226,872 archer and crossbow (not including upgrades) licenses sold through midnight on Nov. 30, which signaled the close of the 2014 nine-day deer hunt. Deer license and tag sales will continue through additional hunting seasons.

Approximately 38,000 licenses were issued to hunters 12 years of age or older who were purchasing a license to hunt deer for the first time, or to those hunting for the first time in 10 years. Female deer hunters have continued to increase in number, and accounted for 35 percent of adults and 36 percent of juniors who purchased a first time resident gun deer license.

While counting down to next year...

Whether you enjoy fall foliage or chasing that trophy white-tailed deer, it's time to grab your camera and snap pictures or shoot a video showcasing your favorite activities to share with friends and family this time of year. In four words or less, show us your favorite fall traditions! Videos should contain no spoken words and be less than 15 seconds long and pictures will need your words included.

Entries will be reviewed by department staff and considered for submission in a music video which will be made available for public view. To enter, simply fill out this form and upload your photo or video. Enter as many times as you'd like!

For more information and a look at pictures submitted from the field, visit the department's facebook page and select "Your Tradition, Your Words" under the "more" tab or visit dnr.wi.gov and search keyword "your traditions."

Successful first-time deer hunters are also reminded to fill out a first deer certificate and commemorate their successful hunt. A printable certificate will be sent to the email address provided.

Additional deer hunting opportunities continue through December

There are additional opportunities to hunt deer in Wisconsin after the close of the nine-day season. The muzzleloader season is currently open through Dec. 10. The late archery season is also underway and continues until Jan. 4, 2015. There is also a Central Forest and Central Farmland antlerless hunt Dec. 11-14, and a Southern Farmland Zone Holiday Hunt, which runs from Dec. 24 through Jan. 1, 2014. It is important to note that the gun deer season for metro sub-units continues through Dec. 10, and archery through Jan. 31.

Deer Advisory Council meetings to be held in December

MADISON -- The final County Deer Advisory Council meeting of 2014 will be held in each county in December, and will provide the public with an important opportunity to provide input regarding each county's deer population objectives before recommendations are advanced to the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources.

These objectives will guide deer management decisions for the next three years - the public is encouraged to attend and participate in a local council meeting.

December meetings will be open to the public for any additional comments as the councils finalize their recommendations. To view a meeting schedule, visit dnr.wi.gov and search keyword "CDAC."

An online survey is also available through Dec. 5 for those who are unable to attend their county's meeting and would like to provide feedback.

Preliminary recommendations, made during October council meetings, suggested an increase, decrease or maintenance in the local deer population. Councils considered scientific deer metrics and stakeholder and public opinion to develop a preliminary population objective recommendation.

To develop a final recommendation, each council will consider survey responses and professional opinions from department wildlife biologists, foresters and law enforcement. Final population objective recommendations will be presented to the department following December council meetings, after which they will be sent to the Natural Resources Board for approval in March. Once approved, population objectives will go into effect for the next three years, starting with the 2015 deer season.

Beginning in February, County Deer Advisory Councils will reconvene to develop antlerless quota recommendations that will move the deer herd toward their population objectives.

New Members sought for Forest Service Resource Advisory Committees

Rhineland, Wis. (Nov. 25, 2014) – The Chequamegon-Nicolet National Forest is seeking community members to serve on the Forest's Resource Advisory Committees (RAC).

The Chequamegon-Nicolet has two advisory committees one serving the east land base, the Nicolet, and the other serving the west land base, the Chequamegon.

The purpose of Resource Advisory Committees is to improve collaborative relationships among the people that use and care for the National Forests and to provide advice and recommendations to the Forest Service concerning projects and funding consistent with Title II of the Secure Rural Schools Act.

These projects must have broad community-based support with objectives that improve Chequamegon-Nicolet National Forest lands and resources. Projects must be on public land, but can occur on private land if it can be demonstrated that there is a benefit to public land resources.

Title II funds are used to fund projects that have broad community-based support with objectives that may include, but are not limited to: road, trail, and infrastructure maintenance or obliteration; soil productivity improvements; improvements in forest ecosystem health; watershed restoration and maintenance; restoration, maintenance, and improvement of wildlife and fish habitat; control of noxious and exotic weeds; hazardous fuels reduction; and reintroduction of native species. Projects must be on public land, but can occur on private land if it can be demonstrated that there is a benefit to public land resources. Resource Advisory Committees are responsible for reviewing and recommending projects for implementation.

The U.S. Forest Service is an agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, a mission of sustaining the health, diversity and productivity of the nation's forests and grasslands to meet the needs of present and future generations. The Forest Service's Eastern Region includes twenty states in the Midwest and East, stretching from Maine, to Maryland, to Missouri, to Minnesota. There are 17 national forests and one national tallgrass prairie in the Eastern Region. For more information, visit www.fs.usda.gov/R9.

The U.S. Forest Service manages 193 million acres of public land, provides assistance to state and private landowners, and maintains the largest forestry research organization in the world. Public lands the Forest Service manages contribute more than $13 billion to the economy each year through visitor spending alone. Those same lands provide 20 percent of the nation's clean water supply, a value estimated at $7.2 billion per year. The agency has either a direct or indirect role in stewardship of about 80 percent of the 850 million forested acres within the U.S., of which 100 million acres are urban forests where most Americans live. Flu Season

I hate to be the bearer of bad news but winter is here and so is the flu season.

We all know what goes hand in hand with cold weather and that would be the closing in of the flu season and it's more important than ever to avoid spreading germs. The best way of doing that is to use good hygiene. Wash your hands often throughout the day. Waterless alcohol-based hand sanitizers can help remove infectious critters. Contagion occurs primarily when your hands touch germ objects and then touch your eyes, nose or mouth. DON'T DO THAT!

Most places that we go, whether it is a Walmart, clinic or any type of business, has placed the hand sanitizer out for your use. They also have the sanitizer wipes to swipe the handle on carts before you place your hands on them. Use this and stay safe from germs on these. The Lysol sprays are good to use on other surfaces too.

Avoid the flu and keep those germs away!
